YOUTH DIES AFTER FALL INTO HOLD

Twenty-year-old Toronto Boy Passes Following Accident at Drydock

Skull Fractured in Forty-foot Fall Into Hold of Ss. Canadian Seigneur

Suffering a fractured skull when he fell forty feet into the hold of the freighter Canadian Seigneur at the Government drydock yesterday afternoon, George Frederick Clarke of Toronto, twenty-year-old cadet on the vessel, died while being taken to hospital in the
C. & C. ambulance.

An inquest into the death has been ordered by Coroner E. C. Hart for four o'clock this afternoon at the B. C.
Funeral Parlors, Dr. E. L. McNiven attended the injured youth en route to St. Joseph's Hospital in the C. & C. ambulance.

According to a report made to the Esquimalt police, Clarke and other workmen were engaged in swinging lumber from 'tween decks on the vessel up to the top deck when the accident happened. Lumber in the sling swept Clarke off his feet, plunging him forty feet into the hold. Another workman received minor bruises at the same time.

Clarke's death occurred shortly after 4 o'clock, the Canadian Seigneur being in drydock at the time. She has since moved to the Outer Wharf.

Island Coal Mines Closed

Men Cease Raising Fuel From Extension Pits For Indefinite Period

Nanaimo, March 27.—The Extension Mines are being closed to-day for an indefinite period, according to information given out here. About 250 miners who live at Ladysmith will lose their jobs.

Hon. James Dunsinuir, opened the mines in 1900 during the Boer War.
All the coal mined was shipped from the Ladysmith bunkers. The city was mainly dependent on the mines, although there is a smaller there, and it drew considerable trade from adjacent farming districts.

Scollard Theft Charge Is Ended

Bonds Returned to Man on Order of Vancouver
Magistrate

Vancouver, March 27.—A charge against George F. Scollard of stealing $150,000 worth of bonds from his former wife, Mrs. Sarah E. Smith, was withdrawn in the police court here this morning. A court order was issued allowing Scollard to regain possession of $150,000 worth of bonds and coupons which had been held by police.

Present in court, the former Mrs.
Scollard, who is well-known in Bellingham, agreed to withdrawal of the bond theft charge.

Scollard's bail, which was reduced from $20,000 to $3,000 last week when it became evident he would no longer be accused of the bond theft, was reduced to $2,000 this morning.

Prosecutor William McKay stated he would confer with the former Mrs.
Scollard before proceeding with the remaining charges included in the general information laid by her against her divorced husband several weeks ago. These charges depose that Scollard stole jewelry, including many rings and necklaces, valued at $20,000.
An adjournment was taken in the case until April 3.

Ss. Europa Fire Loss $5,000,000

Hamburg, March 27.—The North
German Lloyd Line and Blohm & Voss shipbuilders, will begin next week to rebuild the steamship Europa, damaged and sunk yesterday at its dock here by a mysterious fire originating in its cargo hold.

Representatives of the two companies said the work would take four or five months.

Damage to the liner was placed today between 20,000,000 and 25,000,000 marks ($5,000,000 to $6,250,000).
The hullers are practically intact. The elaborate interior decorations had not yet been begun.

The cause of the fire was under investigation to-day, but it was doubted whether it could ever be established. There was a strong belief in some quarters that incendiaries were responsible.

Report of Big Holiday to Deportation Given Denial

No Plan to Send 200,000 French-Canadians in Northeast U.S. Back to Canada

Quebec Legislative Assembly Gives Attention to Report in Newspapers

Washington, March 27 (By Francis G. Aldham, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—No
United States immigration legislation has been passed or is contemplated which will discriminate against Canadians. This was stated definitely to-day by Commissioner of Immigration Harry Hull in reply to a question from the Canadian Press concerning an incident yesterday in the Quebec Legislative Assembly, where attention was drawn to reports of possible deportation of some 200,000 French-Canadian residents in the New England States.

The only new immigration legislation which had been made effective by the United States Congress during the last session which could possibly affect this class of Canadian was the national origins bill, which was proclaimed a few days ago by President
Hoover, it was stated.

Manchester, N.H., March 27.—The suggestion that 200,000 French-Canadians might be deported from New England as a result of stringent application of the immigration laws of the United States was an erroneous interpretation of his views as expressed to interviewers, United States

Tractor Makes Gas Leak And Two Lose Lives

Aged Woman and Grandson
Are Victim of Accident in Vancouver

Service Gas Pipe Broken By Scraper Towed in Street

Vancouver, March 27.—Mrs. E.
Adams, seventy-three, and her grandson, Harold Jeffries, twenty-four, were asphyxiated in their home on East Pender Street here yesterday morning by a gas leak which escaped from a service pipe broken by a tractor grader which struck it on the street.

The tragedy was discovered to-day when city workmen visited the house to see if any damage had been done.

Daniel Johnson, city foreman, said to have been in charge of the grader, is held for investigation in connection with the case.

Police, who were called by the city workmen, found the body of Jeffries lying beside his bed in night attire.
Apparently he had made an effort to reach the window of his room. In a near bedroom they found the body of Mrs. Adams, who had apparently died in her sleep.

A pet dog was found dead in the basement.

Investigation in the basement disclosed that the gas service pipe had been broken in two places. On the street it was found the scraper in tow of the tractor had caught the service pipe and had bent it badly.

Farms Lose In Prairie Fires

Buildings Near Nedeauville, Sask., Destroyed; One Man
Sent to Hospital

Tomkins, Sask., March 27.—A prairie fire that started yesterday burning northwest of Nedeauville destroyed thousands of acres of pasture and the buildings on three farms and caused a man to be sent to a hospital at Medicine Hat, where his wounds, though serious,
are not thought to be fatal.

A strip of country ten miles wide and twenty-five miles long was swept bare during the day. At its closest to the main line of the C.P.R. it was ten miles away, north of Tomkins.

George Tomkins, who lives on the outbuildings, but managed to save his stock, some of the animals being singed when running through the fire.

John Fisher and his family were driven from their home, which was destroyed by the flames.

John Carlson, one of the first to respond to the call for help, was caught by the flames while ploughing a fire-guard, and before he was rescued had sustained severe burns about the hands and face. His horses were also singed and were driven away with the plough. Had it not been for two men nearby Carlson would have been burned to death, for when they reached him his clothes had started to burn.

GRANARIES DESTROYED
Leithbridge, March 27.—A prairie fire which swept along for twenty-five miles in a high wind yesterday threatened the village of Seven Persons, Alberta, on the Crow's Nest Pass branch of the C.P.R., east of here, but after a long fight it was brought under control, doing no more damage than burning a few granaries and some 600 bushels of wheat.

Migrants Are to Come to Farms

British Agreement With Canadian Railways Provides For 2,200 New Settlers

London, March 27 (Canadian Press Cable).—Arrangements have been completed between the Overseas Settlement office and the Canadian railways yesterday for 2,200 young single men to be sent to Canada from Great Britain between now and the middle of May.
The men, who have as yet had no preliminary training, will engage in farm work.

The British authorities are undertaking the whole financial responsibility for those unable to pay their own transportation and the stipulation is made that at least seventy-five percent of the number must be of the unemployed. Other conditions are that as many as possible are to be drawn from the coal mining areas and all migrants must be over nineteen years old. It is stated the arrangement is expected to meet to some extent the slowing up of emigration caused by the cancellation of the former £2 passage to Canada.

CHANG'S MEN TAKE CHEFOO

Treachery Causes Chinese Nationalist Army to Lose
City in Shantung

Chefoo, Shantung, March 27.—Marshal Chang Tso-chang entered this city to-day and practically without hindrance from its Nationalist defenders took control.

The British sloop Cornwall and the United States cruiser Trenton moved ashore to positions near the foreign quarter to meet any emergency which might arise.

The new positions of the war vessels,
it was believed, would have the effect of partly maintaining order in the city.
Defeat of the National troops followed treachery and defection of 7,000 of their number, who went over to Chang, former war-lord of Shantung province. A subordinate of Gen. Liu Chen-ming, Nationalist commander, who had charge of a sector of the western defence, last night refused to carry out an order to attack, leaving a gap through which the enemy advanced and forced the Nationalists to retreat.

The Nationalists began to retreat at 3 a.m. after reverses in a battle which had raged for two days east of the city.
They passed through the city eastward in the direction of Hinghschow, leaving behind them the Chinese troops.

Shops all over the city were closed and residents remained in their homes.
The Chinese Chamber of Commerce sent a delegation to Chang to arrange a peaceful transfer of the town. Looting by the victorious troops was feared.
The Shantung marshal's forces immediately took charge of the cable station, the manager of which had previously asked for a guard from the cruiser Trenton.

Thousands of Chang's troops passed through the city pursuing the retreating Nationalists. They were well armed and had trench mortars and machine guns.

Calcutta, March 27.—Mohandas K.
Gandhi, Indian Nationalist leader, was convicted to-day in court here of de-

The hearing was held yesterday.
Gandhi denied any intention of de-

The police charged the crowd he addressed with a bonfire, into which it threw English-made products.

LONDON BROKERS SPECULATE ON MAJORITIES IN ELECTION

An interesting sideline on the Majorities has been the sudden rise of London Stock Exchange these days is Liberal "stock," which, from a negligible quotation a few weeks ago, is an interesting indication of the market opinion as to the outcome of the coming general election. The method of dealing in majorities is as follows:

The broker quotes a figure for each party, say 250 for the Conservatives.
The buyer at that price will receive a pound sterling for every seat the Conservatives get over 250, or will pay a pound for every seat under that figure.

Treaty Signed at Washington To-day by Hon. V. Massey, Canadian Minister, and United States Secretary of State, Provides for Creation of Commission to Control Fishing for Salmon in British Columbia and Washington Waters; J. P. Babcock Says Fraser System Restoration Involves Many Millions Each Year.

Washington, March 27.—A treaty designed to rebuild the sockeye salmon runs of the Fraser River system in British Columbia and Washington State waters was signed here to-day. It will go now to the United States Senate for ratification, which is expected with little opposition.

Ottawa, March 27.—Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian Minister to the United States and Frank B. Kellogg, Secretary of State of the United States, signed at 11 a.m. to-day in Washington the convention for the protection of the system of sockeye salmon fisheries in which Canada and the United States have a common interest on the Pacific Coast.

The aim of the two countries in making this treaty is to restore and maintain the supply of sockeye salmon, which has been gravely depleted in recent years in the waters on each side of the boundary line between British Columbia and the State of Washington which forms part of the Fraser River system.

The main provisions of the treaty are:

1. The creation of an international commission which will be called the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission, to regulate the enterprise.
2. The establishment of a season from June 1 to August 20 each year, during which the taking of sockeye salmon may be limited or prohibited by the commission.
3. The regulating of fishing by the commission so as to equal proportion of the fish allowed to be caught each season will be taken by the fishermen of each country.
4. The enforcement by the Federal Government of each country of the restriction or prohibition of sockeye fishing imposed by the Commission in the water covered by the convention.
5. The continuation of the convention in force for a minimum period of sixteen years. After that it may be terminated by either Government on one year's notice.

The treaty is the first that has been signed by the United States with a resident Canadian Minister at Washington and is also the last treaty to be signed by Secretary of State Kellogg during his term of office.

TO HOLD INQUIRY
The Commission will consist of six members, three from Canada and three from the United States. Its duties will be first to make a complete investigation of the situation relating to the Fraser River sockeye salmon and to conduct sockeye salmon fish-cultural operations in British Columbia waters. Recommendations may be made to the two Governments and is also the last treaty to be signed by Secretary of State Kellogg during his term of office.

WILL SET PERIODS
The most important part of the authority given by the treaty to the commissioners is perhaps in regard to the restrictions it may impose upon the taking of sockeye salmon during certain time of each year. The period fixed may extend from June 1 till August 20. The commissioners will have the power to limit or prohibit sockeye salmon fishing for the whole or any part of that period and its orders in this respect may cover all the waters covered by the convention, or United States and Canadian waters separately.

Power is also given the Commission to prescribe the size of the meshes in all fishing gear and appliances, in order to secure a proper escapement of sockeye salmon during the spring salmon fishing season.

When sockeye salmon fishing is permitted between June 1 and August 20 on either side of the boundary, any running appliance legally authorized by the country in question may be used.

New U.S. Duties Against Japan Now Are Urged

Northwest Lumbermen, Losing Market, Ask Tea and Silk Import Duties

Portland, March 27.—Pacific Northwest lumbermen, provoked over what they term a discriminatory tariff on American soft woods entering Japan, yesterday began organizing and raising funds for a retaliatory fight and the purpose of demanding United States import duties on tea and silk.

C. E. Dant, vice-president of Dant and Russell, a large exporter of Port Orford cedar, announced a committee composed of representatives of the lumber industry on the Pacific Coast would be sent to Washington to press demands before Congress.

Protests against the new Japanese lumber tariff already have been filed with the State Department and the Federal Government has protested to Tokyo.

RAILWAYS MADE NATION OUT OF WILDERNESS

Tracing railroad development in Canada from the time the first charter was granted in 1832, Samuel J. Drake last night delivered a most interesting address before the Knights of the Round Table on the "Romance of Canadian Railways."

The railroad, said the speaker, had made a nation out of a wilderness. "When one of the conditions of the entry of British Columbia into Confederation was that British Columbia should be connected with Eastern Canada by railroad, no man saw that the fulfillment of that condition would make the prairies the granary of the west and be the base of Canadian prosperity," emphasized the speaker.

He asked what would be the fate of the prairie provinces if they did not have rail connection with the outer world.

"We have no large river west of the Great Lakes, flowing west or east, that is navigable," he said. "If the prairies had population other than Indians and traders they would have been a primitive people to themselves."

FIRST RAILWAY
Canada's first railway, Mr. Drake pointed out, was opened in 1832 between La Prairie, on the St. Lawrence river, to St. John's, a distance of six miles, the charter for which was granted in 1832.

The first international railway built by the St. Lawrence and Atlantic, giving connection between Montreal and Portland, Me.

"It took two things to bring about the construction of the first transcontinental railway—national unity and international rivalry," he added. "In 1831, when such a road was proposed, the Canadian authorities hoped that some day Great Britain and the United States might jointly undertake to build it. Now, in 1923, we have two transcontinental lines built by Canada herself, and the United States has yet to build its first coast-to-coast line under one management," Mr. Drake said.

FAST EXPENDITURE
In dealing with the development of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Mr. Drake said that in 1913 the company appropriated for new construction steamships, hotels, railway shops and elevators almost $100,000,000, or approximately the original cost of the railroad. To-day the company had under its control trackage more than six times the length of the original transcontinental line. Its steamship lines girdled the globe and the company owned and controlled between 5,000 and 6,000 miles of railway in the United States. The company was also a large investor in enterprises for the development of Canada.

Mr. Drake outlined the development of the Canadian Pacific Railways from the time of the Grand Trunk, Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern construction days.

MAN LOST WITH I'M ALONE FROM FRANCE

Alone was inside United States jurisdiction, the case probably would be pressed. In case the ship was approved to the United States territorial waters, it was believed probable the State Department would acknowledge the ship's position and take steps to have the matter settled.

The Canadian Legation will transmit to the British Embassy at Washington in to-day's reports which may be desired or thought necessary by the British representatives.

DANGERS SEEN
Chairman Britten of the House Naval Committee declared to-day the situation created by the sinking of the I'm Alone was very serious.

On the opening day of the conference here, Friday, April 5, the morning will be devoted to the registration and reception of the delegates to be followed by a luncheon given by the Department of Education to the overseas delegates. In the afternoon, Major R. Jarman, Director of Physical Education for the city of Leeds, England, will give an address at the Royal Victoria Theatre on "Education for Health," illustrated by a series of physical training and folk-dancing displays by specially trained groups of boys and girls.

LECTURE ON INDIA
On Friday evening, the overseas delegates will be the guest of Hon. R. Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor, at a dinner at Government House, and at 8 o'clock at the Royal Victoria Theatre Professor Rusbrook Williams of the Chamber of Princes, Patiala, India, will give a lecture on "Education in India," illustrated by a series of fine slides showing the leading educational buildings of the Indian Empire.

This lecture will be followed at 9:30 by a reception at the Parliament Buildings, when His Excellency the Governor-General and Lady Willingdon will receive the delegates. During this reception the Canadian Singers from Toronto will give a short programme of musicals.

TAGORE TO SPEAK
On Saturday evening at the theatre, Sir Rabindranath Tagore, the Indian mystic and philosopher, will give an address on "A Philosophy of Love," representing his interpretation of the Sermon on the Mount. Col. the Hon. Henry Cockburn, former Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, will preside at this gathering and His Excellency the Governor-General will give a short address.

Tentative arrangements are being made for a mid-day programme on Friday or Saturday at the Royal Victoria Theatre for the showing of a series of interesting industrial slides from European countries.

REGISTRATION OPENS
Accredited delegates from representative organizations and others desirous of attending the conference are asked to register as soon as possible at committee room number one in the Parliament Buildings. A fee of $1.50 for the whole of the Victoria and Vancouver sessions, inclusive, will be charged. These registrations, which will entitle the holders to a seat at each session, will close on Thursday, April 4, but would-be registrants are urged to register as early as possible in order to avoid disappointment.

Holders of these tickets will be asked to be in their seats at the Royal Victoria Theatre not less than five minutes before the commencement of each lecture, for after that time all unoccupied seats will be thrown open to the general public.

CANADIAN-U.S. SALMON TREATY IS SIGNED

No regulation can be made or rescinded by the Commission unless it is voted for by at least two of the commissioners from each country.

A statement announcing the signing and setting forth the terms of the treaty was given out today by the Department of External Affairs.

CROWN'S YEARS OF WORK

Conclusion of the treaty between Canada and the United States, which will crown many years' efforts on the part of British Columbia Governments to restore the Fraser River fisheries to their old proportions. If this treaty, by closing the Fraser to fishing for long periods annually, succeeds in building up the old runs, it will accomplish the most valuable work of fishery conservation in the history of America, worth $30,000,000 a year to Canada and its neighbor.

Sockeye salmon, at which the treaty is aimed, were packed by Canadians to the amount of 29,299 cases on the Fraser last year as against a pack of 719,796 cases in 1913, the last big year before the fishery was virtually dried by a slide into the river near Hell's Gate. According to figures prepared by John P. Babcock, Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries of British Columbia and unquestionably the greatest living authority on the Fraser, this stream, if adequately seeded over a sustained period, can produce sufficient fish to fill 1,927,602 cases annually for the two nations interested, a pack worth over $30,000,000.

BIG PROJECT

If adequate measures are adopted by the two countries jointly as a result of the passage of the treaty signed to-day the restoration of what used to be the world's greatest fishery is certain, according to Mr. Babcock.

The restoration of the sockeye salmon fishery of the Fraser system is the greatest and at the same time the least expensive reclamation project in which Canada and the United States can jointly engage and if adequate measures are adopted success is certain. Mr. Babcock said in a recent paper on the subject.

EFFORTS REWARDED

Mr. Babcock is in California on a vacation. It was pointed out in his absence that the signing of the sockeye treaty was probably due more to his efforts than to those of any other person now alive. He has preached conservation of the Fraser fisheries since he first came here to take charge of the Provincial Fisheries Department a quarter of a century ago, but up to the present with little success.

RESULT OF MUCH WORK

Vancouver, March 27—According to Major J. A. Motherwell, chief inspector of the Federal Department of Fisheries for British Columbia, the sockeye salmon treaty signed in Washington to-day marks the culmination of years of work on behalf of the Canadian Fisheries Department to obtain co-operation of the United States in the conservation of Fraser River fish. Efforts to obtain an agreement were started in 1908 and twice during the period since then treaties similar to the one signed to-day were negotiated and even signed, only to fail of ratification in the United States Senate.

It is expected, however, that this present treaty will meet no difficulty in passing through the conflicting interests in the State of Washington which fought an international agreement have now composed their differences. The approval of President Hoover is said to have been obtained by Washington interests.

Because the Washington State Fisheries Department regulations permit use of fish traps and seines, almost seventy per cent of the catch is annually netted in United States waters. Furthermore, the exhaustive methods permitted have added in the depletion, it is said, and Canadian fishermen, under more stringent regulations, have had only thirty per cent of the run to law on.

CO-OPERATION ACHIEVED

Washington canners at first blocked efforts for an international convention, but later, seeing the inroads made into the annual run because of these methods, supported the treaty. It was fought then by some of the independent seiners. In recent years their co-operation also was obtained.

Marshal Alfred Chretien declared to-day. The alleged assertion of the marshal was published locally and was credited in some quarters as based on advice from Washington to the marshal.

M.P.P. QUOTES PRESS REPORTS

Quebec, March 27—Repatriation of French-Canadians came to the fore in the Quebec Legislative Assembly yesterday when the attention of the House was drawn by Maurice Duplessis, Conservative, Three Rivers, to reports which had appeared in the press that 200,000 Canadians, chiefly in the New England states, were liable to deportation by virtue of a recent decision.

Hon. J. E. Perrault, Minister of Colonization, replied that he had communicated with the repatriation office of the Government and that he would join England and asked those in charge if would be excluded en bloc from the United States and hoped the problem would soon be regulated by diplomatic means.

NEW DUTIES AGAINST JAPAN NOW URGED

awaiting promulgation by the Cabinet practically excludes Washington. Only the British Columbia cedar, fir, spruce and hemlock from the Japanese market. Dant declared the new tariff rates were written with the express purpose of driving a Japanese syndicate in Siberia.

By striking at tea and silk, now allowed to enter the United States duty free, the Northwest lumbermen hope to protect their interests in the Orient.

JOIN RAYON FORCES
Rayon manufacturers in the eastern United States have been demanding an import duty on Japanese silk. Herebefore they have been carrying on a lone fight. The soft wood lumbermen of the Pacific Coast and the rayon makers and through joint action will attempt to take tea and silk from the free list in the new tariff bill.

H. W. Condon, manager of the McCormick Mill at Port Blakely on Puget Sound and Republican National Committeeman from Washington, has forwarded a protest to the National Capital.

B.C. LUMBERMEN CONCERNED
Victoria and other B.C. lumbermen are waiting for official information on the extent of the application of the new Japanese duties on lumber from North America. Previous reports have indicated that the duty would practically eliminate the export from British Columbia to Japan.

LIQUOR SMUGGLING

ington that the most important development arising out of the I'm Alone case may be a clarification of the differences between Great Britain and the United States over the interpretation of the rum-smuggling treaty of 1924. In the meantime, as was to be expected, this particular incident will be dealt with by the Canadian and United States Governments, since the vessel was of Canadian registry and captained by a Canadian skipper.

Although the case which now will be the subject of international discussion does not in any way involve Canadian exporters of liquor, it is a phase of the smuggling business of which the Canadian people will take notice. The I'm Alone is reported to be under charter by an international dope ring and bootlegging organization, with headquarters in New York, while the captain of the craft already has established an unsavory reputation for himself as the willing tool for these illegal traders. For these reasons many citizens of Canada will not be disturbed by the incident. The owners and operators of the vessel were engaged in a degrading business on the captain's own admission. Incidentally, our own fishery protection cruisers have pursued foreign poachers out to the high seas, have fired into them, taken them and confiscated them. And we have been sustained by the Supreme Court of Canada in doing so.

It may be recalled that the report of the Royal Commission on Customs and Excise in 1926 made some pertinent references to the treaty between Canada and the United States of 1924 for the suppression of smuggling along the international boundary line. The report stated that "after due consideration of the evidence and of the representations made by the officers of the United States, we have concluded that, notwithstanding the provisions of the said Treaty and the regulations of the Department to carry the same into effect, smuggling is still persisting on a somewhat extensive scale."

Some time ago officials responsible for the enforcement of the prohibition law in the United States visited Ottawa and discussed with Dominion Government department officials the feasibility of Canada refusing to give clearance to any ships obviously destined, although their cargoes may not be so consigned, for points in the United States. It was not surprising, of course, that a definite arrangement was not reached immediately. Certain difficulties have to be disposed of. There is no law on the statute books of Canada which makes it illegal to export liquor. But there is no doubt that public opinion in Canada would support such legislation as may be required to enable us to discharge our obligation under the treaty.

Great Britain already has refused to grant clearances of liquor shipments to the United States. Many other countries have done the same thing. Canada should show a pair of clean hands to the world in regard to this matter. No self-respecting nation can honestly assume any other position. As we do not tolerate smuggling into our country, we should not permit the Dominion to be a base of organized smuggling into other countries.

COLLEGE EDUCATION

AN EASTERN AMERICAN EDUCATOR is greatly worried because some 800,000 young men and women are enrolled in the colleges and universities of the United States.

This, he says, will soon make competition for the "white collar" jobs so keen that salaries will drop fearfully, and the doctor, lawyer, teacher and chemist will earn less than the bricklayer or carpenter.

This might be a perfectly sound conclusion if the sole function of the college were to train people to make more money. If a college degree were valuable only as a passport into the professions, the gentleman's pessimism might be justified.

But—despite the fact that a great many people look at it that way—the getting of an education is not directly connected with the business of earning a living. The technical school, the medical college and the law school, of course, do point their students toward a definite, bread and butter goal; but education in its broader sense is not a thing that seeks to raise one's earning power.

Colleges were established, not to teach people how to make a living, but to teach them how to live. With our emphasis on dollars, we often overlook the fact that there is a difference. It is a big one.

For the educated man treasures a great deal of knowledge that can never have any cash value. He makes himself familiar with such useless things as the poetry of Shelley and Burns, the paintings of Michelangelo and da Vinci, the prose of Flaubert and Conrad, the philosophy of Plato and Spinoza. He does not look at the surrounding world with his own eyes alone, but with the eyes of Carlyle and Tolstoy, Dante and Whitman. He knows the music of Schubert and Wagner, and Wolf and Ferreri.

Now these things, in ordinary circumstances, can never be translated into dollars and cents. The man who has them is not, because he has them, sure of worldly success. Instead he is apt to be a trifle indifferent about it. He is, in a way, set free from the rule of money. He does not have to have a multiplicity of things in order to have a good life. The inner life, provided you can develop it, is infinitely more important than the outer one. In a country where the dollar is the measuring stick for everything, and where a man's happiness and worth are apt to be judged by the price of his automobile and the size of his house, that fact is sometimes overlooked.

If it were not overlooked—if spiritual values were not forgotten in the dash for prosperity—no one would bewail the fact that there are more young people in college than can find dignified and lucrative jobs when they get out. The fact that thousands of youngsters are trying to educate themselves is, really, one of the most encouraging things about present-day life. It ought not to worry anyone.

A WORTHY PIONEER

THE DEATH OF MR. CHARLES E. REDFERN removes a highly-respected pioneer who played a prominent part in public affairs and the business life of the city. Mr. Redfern was a resident of Victoria for sixty-seven years, for more than fifty of which he was in the jewelry business on Government Street. He became a member of the City Council in 1877 and for nearly thirty years was active in municipal affairs, serving four terms as mayor. Notwithstanding the demands of his business and council activities, Mr. Redfern found time to interest himself in numerous organizations and movements for the good of the community. He played a worthy part in the progress of this city and lived to see the realization of many of his hopes and aspirations concerning its welfare.

THE OLD, OLD STORY

IN A SPEECH AT GUELPH, HON. Hugh Guthrie declared that "the King Government since 1921 has been absolutely regardless of the farming industry of Canada." He also said it was an outrage on the farmers of Canada to deprive them of their home markets.

There is something novel about Mr. Guthrie's political reasoning. We presume he would have us believe that the farmers of this country are up in arms against the King Government and ready to revolt. If that is the case, Mr. Guthrie appears to be the only one who has heard anything about it.

It is an extraordinary thing if the farmers have been so badly treated by the present Government at Ottawa since it came into office in 1921 that when they had an excellent opportunity of registering their protest they not only failed to do so, but flatly refused to elect any more than one opponent of that Government out of a total representation from the three great farming provinces of fifty-four members. That representative is Mr. Guthrie's leader—Hon. R. B. Bennett.

When Mr. Guthrie tries to make out that the Canadian farmer is going to the wall because he cannot sell all his products in the home market, his tongue must be in his cheek. Last year's wheat crop, for instance, was more than 500,000,000 bushels. Of that amount we need for our own consumption and seed something less than 200,000,000 bushels. Is it Mr. Guthrie's idea that we should stuff ourselves with the other 300,000,000 bushels? Does he think export trade is of no value?

HIS ABILITY RECOGNIZED

AN ITEM OF NEWS FROM LONDON tells us that Mr. E. R. Peacock, who said that British Columbia had been very fortunate in the manner in which its finances had been handled in the last decade, has been appointed chairman of a committee of five to consider the economic aspects of the proposed Channel tunnel between England and France. This committee is instructed to submit a report on the feasibility of the project from a commercial standpoint.

The appointment of Mr. Peacock, who is a native of Ontario, is interesting because it is an indication of what the British Government thinks of his ability as a financial expert. It should also suggest to critics of the late Government that when he spoke in such complimentary terms of this Province's financial policy and the manner in which it had been developed, he was speaking with a voice of no mean authority.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE BRITISH ELECTIONS
The Philadelphia Ledger
Whatever happens at the election in May, England will still be England, as Lord Northcliffe once observed. But the gulf between the two strongest parties is so wide that a bad Conservative defeat could not help bringing interesting changes. It would certainly be a different England.

THE FIRST LADY OF THE LAND
The Indianapolis News
Modesty has prevented the true story of Mrs. Hoover's work becoming known, but her role was not insignificant and she set an example to the women of her country during that trying ordeal. She has been a leader in the Girl Scout activities and in many movements for the betterment of humanity. To the White House she has taken poise, gracefulness, tact and a wealth of experience. Learned leader that she is, however, her truest love is for home life and her most earnest desire is that America should become in the truest sense a nation of happy families bound together by home ties.

A BLOW FOR FREEDOM
The New York Sun
More than one downtrodden male, after reading how the Prince of Wales appeared the other evening in dinner jacket, soft shirt, soft collar and a sweater of the kind known as pull-over, can be heard these days chuckling a hearty "Atta boy, Prince." The Prince has struck a mighty blow for freedom. Every man with only fifteen minutes in which to dress for dinner, when shirt studs are possessed of a demon, when hard-boiled collars bar at us as when played on, when pleated bosoms turn frowny and stiff ones rumple up and crack, when ties go Bolshevik and tempers go smash—every man who has had these experiences will now think of the sweater, soft shirts and collars of Wales and will resolve to remember King George's hair in his prayers.

A FINANCIAL PROBLEM
The New York Times
The conception of a great international bank, or trust company, as the best means of handling hereafter the whole subject of German reparations and the war debts is obviously gaining ground. In England it is welcomed almost with enthusiasm. Germany is slowly warming up to it. Even in France, where dread of failing to get the full measure of payment by Germany still persists, the project is finding favor. . . . One great difficulty thus far encountered in the entire matter of German reparations and the war debts owed to the United States has been that they were regarded as subject to be decided politically rather than financially. The relations between nations, the determination to insist upon the status of victors as absolutely separate from that of the conquered, have been dominating. But all along, as the clear-sighted have perceived, finance was inextricably tied up with this post-war diplomacy.

DON'T STARVE NATIONAL GALLERY
The Edmonton Journal
A much more liberal annual appropriation for the National Gallery at Ottawa would be justified. It lacks proper accommodation for the treasures already in its possession and the nucleus of a fine collection that has been formed ought to be expanded steadily. Last year the grant was $125,000 and the present estimates call for $130,000. This is a small outlay for the work that is being done and most of the sum will be absorbed by highly important commitments of the board. It would be a serious mistake for Parliament to cut it down.

The gallery, even under present conditions, is a source of great attraction to visitors to the Federal capital. It has been the means of stimulating an interest in art among many others. The loan exhibits that have been sent to different cities, including Edmonton, have been much appreciated and the active of its activities deserve to be extended. To starve an institution with such possibilities of usefulness would be a most short-sighted policy. Attention was called the other day to the failure to utilize properly the memorials of the war that were gathered with so much care and at large expense by individuals who recognized the value that they would have for present and future generations of Canadians.

There should be no danger of any reduction in the proposed appropriation. It is altogether too modest for work of this nature. With the financial position of the Dominion having undergone so marked an improvement, the board ought to have a much larger amount than this to spend each year.

HOSPITAL MATTRESSES
To the Editor:—In trespassing upon your valuable space to thank C. H. O'Halloran for his reply to my previous letter on this subject, I think it is fair to say that whatever difficulties the St. Joseph's Hospital had with mattresses not specifically made for hospital beds, that none of those tried by the hospital was made by the mattress makers of Victoria. Victoria is just as capable of making special hospital mattresses as any factory in Canada, and, moreover, there is no financial disadvantage in having them made in Victoria. The values here will compare with any that may be imported.

The assurance that St. Joseph's Hospital authorities are giving every consideration to local support is very gratifying, no doubt, to many others besides myself and I take this opportunity to thank C. H. O'Halloran for this information. But at the same time I would like to make it quite clear that I wrote on behalf of the actual work in this industry and though Vancouver factories may have local selling offices in Victoria and may to that extent be called a local firm, the actual work as far as they are concerned, is not done in Victoria.

SINGLE TAX INQUIRY

To the Editor:—Re Mr. Alexander Hamilton's letter in your issue of the 20th inst. I must compliment him on his assiduity in support of his contention for single tax, totally inequitable and disastrous as its application has been to Victoria, in whole or in part, gradually concentrating ownership and unbearable taxation on land carrying improvements.

I will ask Mr. Hamilton when the time arrives when only land needed for immediate use will be contributing taxes (always approaching under single tax) what he would do with the inequity (one might say inquiry) shown in the following existing examples. Illustrating a misapplication of his advocacy with 50 per cent exemption, and my advocacy of an equal rate on both land and buildings.

Example A—Assessed value of land, $52,000; plus 50 per cent improvements, $273,600. Assessed value of improvements, $547,600; plus assessed land value, $52,000; taxed at thirty mills, $16,428.00; minus tax with exemption, $2,880.00. Losses $554.50. Assessed value improvements, $547,600; plus assessed land value $73,000, $620,600; taxed at thirty mills, $18,618.00. Example B—Assessed land value, $7,300; plus 50 per cent improvements, $12,800; taxed at forty-one mills, $3,583.00. $3,583.00. Minus tax without exemption, $2,880.00. Losses $554.50.

These are actual existing examples showing one property profits $4,183.40 and the other losing $54.50 by the inequitable method of taxation in vogue here, the value of "A" being over 8 1/2 times that of "B." The respective values are for current year 1928 as is the rate of forty-one mills based on a levy on real property of $1,608.40.

If land and improvements were taxed on full value, a rate of thirty mills would suffice. Assessed value of land is $24,792.357. Improvements, $28,913.480.

100 Passengers To Leave California Ship at This Port

Bringing the largest passenger list of the year from California, the Pacific Steamship Company's coastal liner Emma Alexander is expected at the wharves here tomorrow night from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco, having left the latter port on schedule time at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Emma has 100 passengers aboard who will disembark here while there are ninety-four tons of general cargo aboard for discharge at this port.

With good weather up the coast the liner should make the Rithet pier between 10 and 11 o'clock to-morrow night. W. W. Allan, local agent, will receive wireless advice to-morrow from Capt. Fred Nyström, announcing the exact time that the ship will berth here.

Major Seagrave Says He Is Not Through With Motor Racing

Washington, March 27.—Major H. O. D. Seagrave may attempt an even greater automobile speed than the 231 miles an hour clip at which he broke the world record at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Here to receive the official recognition of his Florida achievement, he says that his statement that he was through with racing applied only to actual racing in which several drivers are pitted against one another simultaneously.

"I have been through with racing," he said for two years, he explained, "but that applied only to races proper. If someone else exceeded the present record here, I might try again."

Major Seagrave said he believed his record would stand for the present because of difficulties of attaining greater speed, regardless of automotive development, on available courses. His chief sporting interests lies now in

From Mother of Six
"I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is wonderful! I have had six children of which four are living and my youngest is a bonnie baby boy now eight months old who weighs 23 pounds. I have taken your medicine before each of them was born and have certainly received great benefit from it. I urge my friends to take it as I am sure they will receive the same help I did."

"I have found a New Life"

What does age matter if you're feeling young? You'll never feel old till you feel ill. Take Kruschen and you can laugh at the calendar. Here is an example—

"I am seventy years of age, and for several years I suffered from every possible thing, above all lack of appetite, sickness day and night, faintness and giddiness. For about four weeks I have been taking your Kruschen Salts every morning. Would you like to know how I feel now? Exactly as if I were 20 years of age! Everything has been brought about in this short space of time! Good appetite for every meal, no more, quick energy as I have never had before, no ill existence, physical agility. I could run against any person 20 years of age! In fact, it is exactly as if in one month I had found a new life."—Madam S. of D. Original letter on file for inspection.

Kruschen is a perfect blend of these six natural salts which are vital to your body well being. The analysis is on the bottle. There are sodium and magnesium to clear away the waste matter that clogs your system and poisons your blood. To food your tissues, there's the tonic potassium. Rousing Cheers Echo Votes For Liberal Heads

Support For Premier King and T. D. Pattullo Voiced in Saanich

Prosperity in Canada Will Continue Under Liberal Regime, Motion Says

"I am sure Canada is entering a great era of prosperity if we keep the ball rolling the right way," declared Francis Simpson, moving a vote of confidence in the Federal Government at the annual meeting of the Saanich Liberal Association last night.

The motion which was passed with three cheers for Premier King was worded as follows:

"Resolved, That the Saanich Liberal Association, in season of annual meeting the 26th day of March, 1929, go on record as expressing full confidence in the tried and proven ability of the Right Honourable W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, and his Government. The high place attained by Canada among the nations of the world, the unprecedented prosperity and development which our country enjoys at the present time, are in large measure due to the policies of the Liberal Government. To assist the continuance of Liberal direction of the affairs of Canada, we pledge ourselves to do all in our power to send a Liberal representative to Ottawa to represent the constituency of Nanaimo of which we form a part."

C. H. O'Halloran replied to the resolution, declaring that it embodied the ideas of Liberalism. He outlined the progress of Canada under the Liberal Government along cultural, national and material lines.

LIBERAL POLICIES BEST

"While we are not so partisan as to take all the credit of Canada's progress for the Mackenzie King administration or for the Liberal Party, it is only fair to go back to the political history in which we discover that the country has prospered under Liberal regimes and has had its worst times under Conservative administration. Surely it has been proven that the Liberal policies are the best policies for Canada."

"The outstanding feature of the last session of the Legislature has been the legislation brought down but the able manner in which Mr. Pattullo has led the Opposition," said M. W. Whitaker, moving a vote of confidence in his leadership.

Although greatly outnumbered in the Legislature, the Opposition had given a good account of itself and had successfully exposed to the public some of the "many mistakes" of the "new and inexperienced" Cabinet.

FOR MR. PATTULLO

"If an election were held to-day, I have no doubt but that it would result in a Liberal victory," he added, following which the resolution passed with a rousing cheer for the Liberal leader.

Replying to the motion Mr. Pattullo declared the credit was not all to him but to the compactness of the party.

"It was not necessary for us to hold caucuses every day as did the Conservatives," he said.

David Ramsay was re-elected president of the organization by acclamation.

Other officers elected were as follows: Honorary president Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, T. D. Pattullo, hon. vice-presidents C. H. O'Halloran, M. W. Whitaker, vice-presidents Mrs. G. Bennett, F. Simpson and N. McCall, secretary Henry Hill.

Mr. Ramsay, reviewing the events of the last year, pointed out that the election had taken a great part of the association's time.

SATISFACTORY RESULT

Referring to the result of the election, he pointed to the gains made by the Liberal cause in Saanich, where a young Liberal candidate had been pitted against the leader of the Conservative party, a man of wide experience, well known in the community.

He regretted the defeat of Dr. J. D. MacLean, to whom he referred as a man whose "ability was of high order," and whose "integrity was unblemished."

"But I am sure we all wish him success in his new position as head of the farm loan board. The Dominion authorities have at last recognized his ability," he said.

Mr. Ramsay outlined the Liberal organization in Saanich and, discussing general policies of the party, declared:

"If democratic government by the people, for the people and from the people, is to succeed Liberal principles must be a dominant factor in social progress."

Turning to Federal politics, Mr. Ramsay stated that when next the Dominion Government went to the people the Liberal party would be stronger than it had been since the days of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Conservative propagandists had badly fooled the people of British Columbia at the last Provincial election, he claimed, "but I do not think they will be able to do so again."

In conclusion, he tendered thanks to the members of the association for the support it had given him. Henry Hill, the secretary-treasurer, made a brief report upon the activities of the association during the past year, which was a favorable balance in the treasury.

It was decided to hold the annual meetings of the association in future in the month of October, following a recommendation of the executive. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Mrs. F. Ellis rendered a vocal solo as an interlude to the business programme.

Mr. J. O. Terry, Victoria and Mr. W. B. Conway of Nanaimo. Mrs. Charles St. John McIntosh has as her guest her sister, Miss Cameron, who arrived recently from Vernon. Mrs. Basil Cartwright, who has been visiting her father, Mr. J. C. Lang, in Victoria, has returned to her home at Fernwood, North Salt Spring. Mrs. Arthur Byng and small son, who have been spending a holiday at Fulford Harbor, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Mollett, have returned to Victoria. Mrs. Byng expects to leave shortly for Kyquoot, where she will join her husband.

Miss Joan Hardy has arrived at Ganges from Vancouver, where she is on the staff of the General Hospital. She will be the guest of her mother, Mrs. Hardy and Dr. Sutherland. Major Godfrey of Victoria and the Rev. Lawson, were guests registered at the White House, Fulford Harbor, last week. Miss Evelyn Jackson has been spending several days at Fulford, the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Jackson, Swallowfield Haven. Mrs. Robert Price returned on Monday from Victoria with her small son, who has been ill, but is now progressing favorably. Mrs. J. Mitchell who has been spending a few days visiting friends in Victoria, has returned to her home at Ganges.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wakelin and family, who have been spending a holiday at Fulford Harbor with friends, have returned to their home in Victoria.

Mr. S. Dunneil, who has been spending a holiday on Salt Spring, returned to Victoria on Monday by the S. Charles.

A drawn game in what was to have been the final match of the series for the Hart Cup, was played on the Mahon Hall grounds on Sunday afternoon, between the Ganges and Fulford football teams before the largest crowd ever present at a football match on the island. Some of the spectators came from as far away as Cowichan Gap and the north end of Galiano Island by launch. Amid wild enthusiasm Ganges scored early in the game. At half-time the score was 2-0. Fulford boys played up well in the second half, equalizing towards the end, thus making a drawn game, 2-2. Under these circumstances the match will have to be replayed, as both teams have an equal number of points on the games played during the series.

Queen Mary's Sister-in-law Passed To-day

London, March 27.—The Dowager Marchioness of Cambridge, sister-in-law of the Queen, died at midnight from septic pneumonia.
The Marchioness was the widow of Queen Mary's brother, Prince Adolphus, eldest son of the Duke of Teck. She was Lady Margaret Evelyn Grosvenor, daughter of the First Duke of Westminster, and married Adolphus in 1894, when she was twenty-one.
When his father died in 1900, they became the Duke and Duchess of Teck, but that title was relinquished in 1917 during the war because it was a German title. The Duke was granted an English peerage with the title of Marquess of Cambridge. Their union lasted thirty-three years, and they had four children.

Cantata To Be Given Friday At Emmanuel Church

Good Friday at the Emmanuel Baptist Church, Fernwood Road, will be observed by the rendering of Maunders' well-known work "Olivet to Calvary." The choir will be assisted by Miss Nettie Parfitt, soprano, Frank Partridge, tenor, and Harold Parfitt, bass. With these able artists and the choir having diligently rehearsed their respective parts under the leadership of Fred Parfitt, those who contemplate being present are assured an outstanding treat. Miss W. Scowcroft will preside at the piano, and Ivor Parfitt at the organ.
The audience will take part in the singing of the two well-known hymns "Just As I Am" and "Rock of Ages." Preceding the cantata the choir will render the unaccompanied chorus from Stainer's "Crucifixion," "God So Loved the World" and Handel's "Surely He Hath Borne Our Griefs."
Rev. H. Knox will open with prayer and the whole service will be of a quiet and reverent character suitable to this day of remembrance of the great scene enacted at Calvary.

PROOF OF DYES is in the dyeing!

Words won't dye a dress, or coat, or sweater. It takes real anilines to do that. That's why Diamond Dyes contain from three to five times more anilines than any other dye—by actual test. It's the anilines in Diamond Dyes that do the work; that give the colors such brilliance; such depth and permanence. It's real anilines that keeps them from giving things that faded look; from spotting or streaking.

Next time you have dyeing to do, try Diamond Dyes. Then compare results. See how soft, bright, long-lasting the colors are. Observe how they keep their brilliance. Your dealer will refund your money if you don't agree Diamond Dyes are better dyes.

The white package of Diamond Dyes is the original "all-purpose" dye for any and every kind of material. It will dye or tint silk, wool, cotton, linen, rayon or any mixture of materials. The blue package is a special dye, for silk or wool only. With it you can dye your valuable articles of silk or wool with results equal to the finest professional work. When you buy—remember this. The blue package dyes silk or wool only. The white package will dye every kind of goods, including silk and wool. Your dealer has both packages.

STUDENTS TO BROADCAST

San Francisco School Pupils to Give Concert Over NBC

Four hundred and fifty high school students will be heard in choruses and orchestral music in a broadcast through NBC system stations to-night between 9 and 9.30 o'clock.

These pupils, representing the finest musical talent in the San Francisco Bay District, are to present a concert in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium as the final event of the annual California Public School Music Conference. Microphones installed by NBC radio engineers will pick up a portion of the concert for broadcast through two of the California stations of the NBC system—KGO Oakland, and KFI Los Angeles.

The San Francisco Bay Section High School orchestra and chorus will be heard on the air for the first time.

ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS
Of the 450 students in the two groups, 150 will play in the full symphony orchestra. Approximately 300 are members of the chorus. Every instrumentalist has been recommended by his school principal, the director of his school orchestra and his private music teacher as an outstanding student. The singers, likewise, have been chosen because of their exceptional musical ability.

During the broadcast portion of the concert, the chorus, accompanied by the orchestra, will sing William Gericke's "Chorus of Homage," Samuel Gardner's "From the Canyon," and Schubert's overture to "Alphonso and Estrella" will be interpreted by the orchestra. An "a capella" number by the chorus will be Morley's "Now is the Month of Maying."

King's Daughters To Hold Annual Daffodil Tea Soon

The King's Daughters held their district meeting on Monday at the headquarters, Hibben-Bone Building, Mrs. L. H. Hardie presiding. Reports given showed that all the circles had been working for the linen shower for the King's Daughters Hospital at Dunsmuir, and that the Victoria Order of Nurses had been assisted with clothing and soap for invalids. The Hawthorn Circle had donated two pictures to the rest-room.

During February the rest-room was open on twenty-four days and 2,569 girls used the rooms. The rummage sale on March 23 netted $21.40, and the meeting thanked L. V. Conyers for the use of the store, Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Kingham for collecting the articles, and the Hudson's Bay Company for donations.

Final arrangements were made for the daffodil tea to be held at the home of Miss Agnew on Tuesday, April 2, from 3 till 6 p.m., when there will be flowers for sale and home-made candy, and tea will be served.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

THE QUESTION OF WATER DRINKING

Mrs. C. E. S.

Below is the article you requested. Your boy drinks a lot of water for a two-year-old, but if given between his meals this would not be at all harmful. It causes excessive urination as you have discovered.

There are no definite rules that can be laid down on the subject of just how much water each child must drink in a day. Doctors differ widely in their ideas on the subject, and children themselves differ just as widely. For it resolves itself down to what the child will take, after all, for though you may lead a horse to water and fall to make him drink, every mother knows, also, that you can offer water in every conceivable form and utensil and if baby doesn't want it he will have none of it.

The well-fed child seldom wants much water to drink. He drinks copiously of his mother's milk or of cow's milk, so, as long as he is satisfied and seemingly neither wants or needs water, why "tear one's hair over it?" Offer it from a glass or spoon between feedings, and if the baby blows bubbles with it, just make up your mind that he certainly doesn't need it.

If the baby is being given a concentrated formula (such as lactic acid milk) and is not gaining well, the lack of enough water may be the real cause. For babies do have fluid needs and in the case of the concentrated foods these may not be satisfied.

Huge quantities of water given to a baby close to his feeding period may spoil his appetite. Try it yourself. When your stomach begins the gnawings and contentions which we recognize as hunger, drink a full glass of water and see what happens. You feel exactly as if you had eaten. That is, for a time. If baby drinks a lot of water, even though it begins to leave the stomach immediately, he doesn't come to his next meal with the ravenous appetite that would cause him to "fill up" for the next three or four hours. Such a baby may fall to gain, the breast milk may grow scantier, because of inadequate stimulation, and the baby continue to demand ounces and ounces of water in order to be satisfied. The one way to avoid this is to find out what is wrong when baby takes so much water. The food in some way is dissatisfying and that is what needs correction rather than denying the baby the water, which he wouldn't want if he had more food.

Remember that all children need water, but like everything else in a child's life, no definite amounts should be forced. Offer it frequently and let the child take what he wants, providing that his intake isn't so enormous that one gravely doubts that he has enough to eat.

Radio Commission To Hold Hearings

Ottawa, March 27.—The Federal Radio Commission, headed by Sir John Alderdice, will leave for western Canada April 5 to start its programme of hearings on domestic conditions in the radio broadcasting field.

The commission will proceed direct to the Pacific Coast, where the members will attend some of the sessions of the National Council of Education, which has placed on the convention programme several papers relating to the radio question. A debate will be held on the subject "A national policy for exploitation of the radio." Hearings will be held in Vancouver and Victoria.

Public meetings will be held later in Edmonton, Calgary, Regina, Moose Jaw, Brandon, Winnipeg, Port Arthur and Fort William, followed by a tour of Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces and a visit to a number of centres in the United States.

The final report of the commission is expected to be submitted to the Government before Parliament prorogues.

Artist Exhibits Fine Collection

Arthur Checkley Shows Landscapes at Arts and Crafts Studio

One of the most interesting collections shown by a local artist in Victoria in many months is that on exhibition to-day and for the first three days of next week by Arthur Checkley, in the Arts and Crafts Studio, Union Building. The collection comprises twenty-eight Vancouver Island and Saskatchewan landscapes, the majority in oil, but several in watercolor and tempera.

Mr. Checkley has the gift of versatility and imagination, for while many of his paintings follow the orthodox school, others show his decided leanings towards the impressionistic. In both he is equally happy, the virility of his work, whatever the medium, being one of his outstanding characteristics. "Sunlight Snow," one of his scenes of the Saskatchewan prairie, is a gem of clever treatment, with the shafts of sunlight dappling the snow with color. The artist's sound sense of values is apparent in this delightful study.

"When the Sea is Blue" and "Coming Storm" are glowing bits of local color, seen through the eye of the impressionist, while there is a nobility of treatment about his mountain studies, notably "Winter in the Rockies" and "Shovel Pass." Mr. Checkley has the happy faculty of painting snow which looks like snow, and one of the most pleasing pictures in the collection in his "Melting Snow" showing the vivid colorings of the earth coming to light again after a prairie winter. The exhibition is well worth a visit from all who appreciate art.

Wilson, 1393 Stanley Avenue, for a supper party in honor of Miss Meta Caldwell, whose marriage will take place at Knox Presbyterian Church on Tuesday next at 8 p.m. The guest of honor was presented by Mrs. Wilson, on behalf of the ladies, with a handsome pair of Kenwood blankets, beautifully tied with pink ribbon and clusters of real orange blossoms. Pink and white were the colors used in the decoration through the house, the supper table centred with pink carnations. Miss Peggy McPhair and Mrs. J. Donald sang several duets during the evening. Miss Margaret acting as accompanist. At the conclusion of the singing, Mrs. Wilson prior to the social, Miss May Corkill read a paper on foreign missions in the Maritime churches and Miss McPhair sang a solo.

Butcher's Goal In Overtime Play Puts Rangers In Finals

World's Hockey Champions Defeat Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1 in Second Game of Series for right to tackle Boston in Deciding Series for Stanley Cup; Andy Blair Nets Toronto's Lone Goal; John Ross Roach, Former Toronto Goalie, Plays Big Part in Defeat of Former Teammates.

Toronto, March 27.—Connie Smythe is wondering to-day why he ever formed the New York Rangers for Colonel Hammond in 1926. For practically the same team that Connie brought together and then handed over to Lester Patrick, tossed Connie's Toronto Maple Leafs out of the National Hockey League play-offs last night by a 2-1 score. As they won the first game, 1-0, in New York Saturday, the Rangers took the series and now go into the finals against the Boston Bruins.

Another unusual angle to the affair was that John Ross Roach, Ranger goalie, who perhaps did more than anyone else to defeat Toronto, was traded by the Leafs to New York early this season. The game was a work of art to a season which witnessed unprecedented enthusiasm in professional hockey.

The Toronto Globe writes: "The last episode of what has been a thrilling professional hockey drama for Toronto fans this season was unfolded last night."

LEAFS SHOW STRAIN

"The battling Leafs, showing the strain of the long, hard grind that in the past two months has aroused Toronto hockey fans to a high pitch of enthusiasm, forced the Rangers to play seventy minutes of the most gruelling kind of hockey before they bowed to defeat and they were more outclassed than outplayed," Connie Smythe insists that his team was outplayed, claiming that both Rangers goals were kicked into the net."

DISASTROUS PUSH

The Mail and Empire writer says: "An infraction of the rule which forbids a player other than the goalie to handle the puck brought about the elimination of the Leafs last night and paved the way for a Ranger victory. The play came shortly after the overtime session started, with Pettinger, who had caught the referee's eye just before the full-time whistle, in the penalty box. The offender was captain Day, who, previous to the overtime period, had been lucky to escape a penalty for the same offence. This time it was a slow bounding puck which came out from the side of the goal and Day, stooping down, pushed the puck along with his hand. It was a disastrous push, for it gave the Rangers two odd men for the first time during the night and they made full use of their advantage."

FIRST PERIOD

Speed was the byword as the two teams opened up with fast rushes, the shooting coming from the outside."

Less than two minutes from the start the Leafs counted. Andy Blair did the trick. Going down with Blair he raced in to bat the puck in after Roach had blocked Blair's shot and frantically attempted to clear two rebounds, only to see Blair's tap send the rubber in.

Bun Cook evened the count for the Rangers, speeding to the net on his own shot and forcing Lorne Chabot on the rebound. Cook's effort carried goalie, puck and himself into the cage.

There was no letup in the speed and the Leafs tried to get into close quarters on Roach. Pettinger missed a score after taking Day's pass out when Roach squatted squarely in the way of the shot. Boucher flashed in close for a good try.

The Leafs were weakened when Cotton was sent off for necking Bill Cook and the Cook brothers fought furiously inside the Leafs' blue line and the Toronto team was bottled up for two full minutes, except for one lone dash by Smith before Cotton returned. Chabot alone prevented a tally.

SECOND PERIOD

Abel was chased at the start of the second game when he tossed Danny Cox behind the net. The Leafs then launched a brilliant offensive, Cox's snappy shot after taking Blair's pass giving Roach a close call. A scramble near his cage passed in a flurry of excitement. Abel and Johnson were stopped on individual rushes and Keeling screamed a fast drive into Chabot's pads. Horne, Smith and Pettigrew were then the three hot spots from a wild mixup. Thompson was halted and Horne's long pass sent Day racing for a drive that Roach jumped into and then rolled over with the puck clasped to his chest.

Sube came and went in a steady procession and both teams kept up a hot pace with plenty of bumping duels. Close checking and Roach's good work also held the Leafs out near the period's end.

THIRD PERIOD

Both sides worked carefully at the start and Roach and Chabot crawled behind their cages to drop pucks that had nestled in their pads.

Johnson was penalized for bumping Cox and the Leafs went on to stage a thrilling offensive.

There was action galore when the Leafs milled wildly in front of Roach, but the little net proved his bottle time and again.

Blair came off Bill Cook and crashed heavily into the boards. He retired for repairs. There was a penalty. Roach saved sensationally on Blair's close shot and on his second attempt on the rebound that had all the earmarks of a score.

The Leafs were forced to play, but the Rangers watched carefully for every opportunity and Boucher and the Cook brothers were all dangerous on their rushes. The Rangers ploughed down for a drive that nearly trickled through Chabot.

OVERTIME PERIOD

Pettinger was chased as the full time ping-pong for bumping Blair. Cook into the boards. Day was penalized for

Record Crowds See Coast Ball Teams Open Their Season

Four Games Yesterday Drew Approximately 55,000 Fans; Portland Beavers Spring Surprise by 3-2 Victory Over San Francisco Seals, Last Year's Champions; Missions Make Auspicious Debut by Beating Oakland 7-4; Los Angeles Walk Over Seattle, 14-4.

San Francisco, March 27.—Eight Pacific Coast League baseball clubs opened the 1929 season with a bang yesterday in four California cities, to the edification of approximately 55,000 fans. Before a record coming-out crowd of 14,000, the Portland Beavers, with Jack Knight in the box, defeated the Seals on their home lot here, 3-2. The highly-touted heavy artillery of last year's champions remained stilled under the pitching generalship of Knight, who rose one above the stern opposition of Elmer Jacobs.

Wade Killifer's speedy Missions made an auspicious debut against the Oakland clan at Emeryville, claiming the victory, 7-4, after the Oaks had staged a closing rally that at least bolstered the hopes of their adherents. More than 12,000 persons witnessed the battle.

SOUTH TRIUMPHS

The North and South met at Los Angeles and the South triumphed with an invincible battery. The Angels' sluggers rolled up a score of fourteen runs, while the Angels' twirlers held the Seattle squad to four. The third inning proved a disastrous debacle for the Indians, when the Southerners dusted off six runs in a row. Approximately 15,000 fans saw the game.

Governor C. C. Young at Sacramento tapped out signals as the opening gun in the battle between the Hollywood stars and the Senators, which the latter won by the score of 8-6. It was a game decided by brilliant pitching, with few hits, and rather wild pitching. A homer, uncorked by Hank Severid, husky catcher of the Solons, was a big feature of the tussle.

San Francisco, March 27.—Before a near capacity crowd of approximately 15,000 persons, the Portland Beavers pulled a surprise out of the bag yesterday by defeating the San Francisco Seals, 1928 champions, 3 to 2, in the opening game here of the Pacific Coast League season. Jack Knight, old-time right-hander, allowed the Seals a scant three hits, while he scored the winning run himself on Mack Hill's sharp single in the eighth inning.

LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, March 27.—Los Angeles hefty bats, taking a heavy toll in base hits from their opposing pitchers, crushed the Seattle Indians by a 15-4 score in the opening game of the Pacific Coast League season here yesterday. The Angels pounded the Indians moundmen for sixteen hits, most of them in bunches. A six-run surge in the third put the game on ice for the Angels. The veteran Bobby Jones, third baseman, led off with a home run, a double and two singles in six at-bats at the plate.

R. H. E. Seattle 4 1 4 Los Angeles 15 6 2 Batteries—Collard, Ault and Fish; Barfoot, Childs and Warren, Sandberg.

Oakland, Cal., March 27.—The Oakland team of the Pacific Coast League played their first game here yesterday and the Missions put over a 7 to 4 victory. The winners scored six runs off Howard Craighead before he was lifted for a pinch hitter. The Oaks staged rallies in the seventh and eighth innings but each time fast fielding prevented them tying the score.

R. H. E. Missions 7 0 1 Oakland 4 9 2 Batteries—Cole, Nelson and Baldwin; Craighead, Dumovich and Lombardi.

Sacramento, March 27.—Before a record-breaking crowd of 12,000 persons, Sacramento Senators won a thrilling battle, 8-6, from the Hollywood Stars here yesterday in the 1929 Coast League inaugural.

A hustling first baseman, Ray Keating and Buzz Wetzel was soon turned into a slugfest. Joe Harris made his first appearance before local fans and hit a lone double to start the scoring. Hank Severid started the eighth with a homer to tie the count.

R. H. E. Hollywood 12 8 1 Sacramento 8 6 2 Batteries—Wetzel, Marley, Johns and Basler; Agnew, Keating, Gould and Severid.

Three Games On To-night

City League Basketball Teams Will Play in Knockout Competition

Three basketball games in the City League knockout series will be played at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium to-night, starting at 7:30 o'clock. The first game of the evening will find Axioms opposing Harmony. The four will play pique in the second fixture, while the final contest of the evening will be C.P.S. vs. West Road.

The Axioms will have plenty to worry about in their game as the Harmony team have been playing well all season. Both teams are fairly light and fast, the Axioms having a slight advantage in height. This game should produce some very fine ball with each team having an even chance for victory.

Bob Whyte and his band of bakers should eliminate Sooke, but it will be a close struggle. The out of town team gave a good display of shooting in their championship game with the Crescents here a short time ago. The experience of the bakers should pull them through, however.

The C.P.S. should have little trouble eliminating West Road as they play a far superior brand of ball. The complete card is as follows: 7:30 p.m.—Axioms vs. Harmony. 8:15 p.m.—Sooke vs. West Road. 9:10 p.m.—C.P.S. vs. West Road.

Eddie Collins Will Not Do Much Playing

Collins, captain of the Athletics, and yesterday he didn't expect to see much active service as a player this season.

No Verdict Reached In First Game of Allan Cup Contest

Port Arthur, Western Champions, and Saint Francois Xavier, Eastern Titleholders, Play to a 1-1 Score After Ninety Minutes of Thrilling Hockey in Opening game for Canadian Amateur Hockey Championship; Eastern Team is First Intermediate Squad to Ever Reach Finals; Two Defences Put Up Splendid Exhibition.

Winnipeg, March 27.—One ninety-minute game of the 1929 Allan Cup finals has been written into the records to-day, but the two finalists are still neck and neck in their endeavor toward the Canadian amateur hockey championship. Saint Francois Xavier, first intermediate team ever to battle through to the last session succeeded in holding Port Arthur seniors to a 1-1 draw last night before a crowd of 5,000 Winnipeg fans.

With a game and a half behind them both teams came out ahead to the remainder of the two of three game series with a better knowledge of the opposing outfit. The Saints, playing their game in Winnipeg, claim they will show improvement now that they have become acquainted with the dimensions of the rink. Their contests during the season, at the Forum in Montreal, have been staged on bigger ice surface.

OFF ON SHOOTING Greater accuracy in shooting is the promise of Manager Gervais of the Saints, for his charges in the succeeding games of the final struggle. Last night the Frenchmen rifled numerous shots in the general direction of Eddie Baker, Port Arthur custodian, but they actually lined at the goal fewer than half the shots that Gagnon, their own goalie, was called on to save.

The two defences battled in the 90-minute struggle that opened the series. The opposing guard trio were so superior to the front lines that an edge shown by the Port Arthur advance string could not force its way into the scoring record.

BRUNET IS STAR His spectacles encased in a mask, Lucien Brunet, big St. Francois defence man, displayed a corker's attack that carried him the length of the ring time after time. His closest rival in offensive work was Wilson, veteran Port Arthur defence man, though the husky Port was edged into the corner on many of his rushes.

FIRST PERIOD "Phat" Wilson, leader of the Ports, engineered the first dangerous rush, but was bumped off balance by Brunet, bespectacled Saint, as he dashed a shot. Pedneault gained a loose puck after Carroll was halted at the defence and almost caught Ed. Baker unprepared. The Saint's poking cleverly, were rifling drives from far outside the Brunet-Ashern wall, but Gagnon moved confidently to all his saves. Paul Gagnon and Rene Lapointe, Port Arthur's defence, were relieved on the wings for the Easterners and Tony Baril, bandy-legged centre man, led his mates in a series of driving forays on Baker and Jarvis. Port Arthur winger, was through, but the puck eluded him and was easy for Gagnon. L'Heureux came to centre left the score still tallied by twin zeros. Time after time the Port forwards halted incipient St. Francois attacks only to line unavailing shots at Lucien Gagnon.

Paul Gagnon, sub-winger for the Saints, showed the crowd his speed in leaving the Wilson-Gross defence flat, but his finish failed. Wilson, attacking with L'Heureux, almost angled in a goal off Brunet's skates, but Gagnon was alert and saved. The Frenchmen were forced to shoot from the blue line and most of the attempts were wide.

Paul Gagnon veered his way through the entire lakeduck squad, but Baker, who has his horseshoe charm hanging on the goal post, deflected the drive. Another Gagnon ally ended only when the Saint was sent to the ice by Gagnon's stiff checking. Bud Jarvis took the first penalty of the game as the period waned for bodying Bourgeois into the boards.

The shovy display of speed and stick-handling offered during the last half of the session by Paul Gagnon, brother of Lucien in the nets, inspired the Saints to improved endeavors.

THIRD PERIOD The Ports opened the closing period determined to hold their vast territorial advantage. Jarvis was still at his penalty. Though outskated on the exchange, the Saints remained dangerous in the comparison due to their sudden sallies after continuous shooting from a distance. Most of the Frenchmen's shots in the last period were wide of the net though numerous. Before Jarvis returned the Saints had lined three drives at Baker, but none was from dangerous distances.

Through an open cage after a pass from Wilson, Gagnon's net-minder, his Frenchmen's shots in the Ontarioans' best opportunities. Carroll was sent off for the game's second penalty when he hoisted Gross in the series' defensive area. Gagnon saved neatly on a Barton-Wilson onslaught, but the Ports continued to press while the Easterners were short-handed.

Absent of the Frenchmen's shots, the former's pass was poor in the pinch. Baril missed Carroll hanging sound and a minute later was waved off when Carroll had been back in the game but a minute.

OVERTIME PERIOD Creighton went through for a shot as the overtime began and Baril raised the rebound over the net. Baril's second game's first tally with a minute gone when he rifled a wavering long shot from centre ice to find the net while Baker lost the disc in the light. A moment later Baril was sent to the cooler and the Ports rushed desperately on the Quebec defence.

With Bud Jarvis, Gross was through only to have Gagnon save spectacularly, but Creighton, after Baril returned, tied-up to count when he flashed out to tie Baril's rebound in the gold-month with three minutes gone. Gagnon had not a ghost of a chance.

At the five-minute turn the teams were deadlocked at one apiece with end-to-end rushes the continuous fare for the mob.

THE LINE-UP St. Francois—L. Gagnon, Brunet, Ahearn, Pedneault, Baril, Carril, P. Gagnon, Lapointe, Rene Lapointe, Port Arthur—Baker, Wilson, Gross, Creighton, Barton, B. Jarvis, Fidy, L'Heureux and Cox. Referees—Stan Bourgeois and Harry Watson.

SUMMARY First period—No score. Penalties—None. Second period—No score. Penalties—Jarvis, minor. Third period—No score. Penalties—Carroll, Baril, Gagnon and Jarvis. First overtime period—1, St. Francois, Baril, 1:07; 2, Port Arthur, Creighton, from Jarvis, 3:15. Penalties—Baril, Second overtime period—No score. Penalties—None. Third overtime period—No score. Penalties—Paul and Gagnon. Total shots stopped by Baker, 34; by Gagnon, 53.

Dempey Signs German Heavyweight For Bout to Take Place at New York

New York, March 27.—Jack Dempey announced last yesterday that he had signed Max Schmeling, the German heavyweight boxer, for a fight in New York. Humbert Pugazy, promoter, will be associated with Dempey in signing the bout. It will be an open-air fight, probably at Ebbets Field. Arthur Bu-low, German manager of Schmeling, is to be staged in Boston. Crisler, Stribling and Paulino are other possibilities.

Incidentally, Dempey announced that he was preparing to get into shape. He said he weighed 210 pounds, and had not worked for three months. "If I have to fight I want to be in condition," Jack explained. "But I hardly think I will fight again. It is more for my health than anything else."

Detroit Olympics Win Out After 100 Minutes Of Hockey

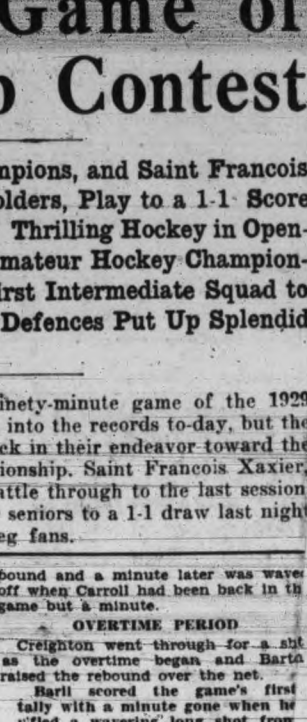

Twelve, March 27.—After 100 minutes of gruelling hockey, the longest game played in the Canadian Professional League and probably anywhere else this season, was necessary before Detroit Olympics defeated Toronto Millers 6-5 last night to go into the finals against either Windsor or Kitchener in Detroit, March 31.

Detroit won the first game Saturday 2-0, taking the series in two straight games at Detroit, but none was from dangerous distances.

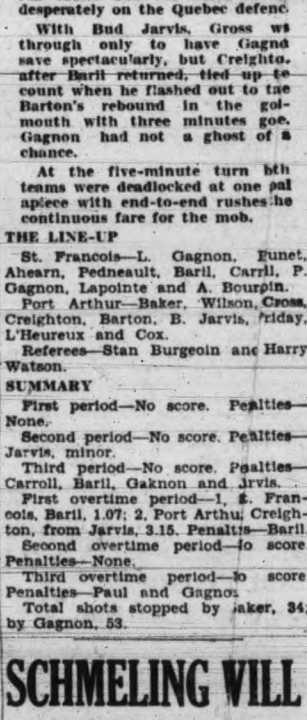

Through an open cage after a pass from Wilson, Gagnon's net-minder, his Frenchmen's shots in the Ontarioans' best opportunities. Carroll was sent off for the game's second penalty when he hoisted Gross in the series' defensive area. Gagnon saved neatly on a Barton-Wilson onslaught, but the Ports continued to press while the Easterners were short-handed.

Over 12,000 Amateur Hockey Players Competing In Canada

Winnipeg, March 27.—Over 12,000 hockey players performed in organized associations under jurisdiction of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association during the 1928-29 season. It was shown at the opening session of the association's annual meeting here yesterday.

The increase in registrations amounted to more than 500 over the previous season and more players than ever before played under the national parent body during the past year. Registrar W. A. Hewitt, of Toronto, reported that 12,381 players were signed on various teams in the nine provinces, as compared with 11,700 in 1927.

The success of the junior Canadian playdowns last season was demonstrated in the financial report also presented by Mr. Hewitt. Fifteen thousand dollars went into the coffers of the C.A.H.A. from junior play-off games in Eastern and Western Canada. The association cleared more than $10,000 after all expenses were covered.

Sport Meetings

A special meeting of the Victoria Cricket Association will be held to-morrow night at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 o'clock. The executive of each club is requested to attend as plans for the forthcoming season will be discussed.

The Sons of Canada Baseball Club will hold an organization meeting in the Sons of Canada Hall, View Street, at 8 o'clock to-morrow night. All of last year's players are requested to attend.

Gun Dog Club Calls Off Field Trials Until Later Date

Due to the fact that the grounds are not in the proper condition for the event, the annual Spring field trials of the Victoria and District Gun Dog Club have been postponed until next Fall. The actual date of the trials will be decided at a meeting of the club to be held on April 5 at the Westholme Hotel.

On Saturday night the club will stage a parlor show in the basement of the hotel. Any pointer, setter, retriever or sporting spaniel may be shown whether the owner is a member or not. An entry fee of twenty-five cents for each dog will be charged. Charlie Goodwin will act as judge.

"throat-easy" say Buckingham Boosters

"Permit me to express my undying opinion of your famous Buckingham Cigarettes. I have smoked practically every brand of cigarette on the market—from the expensive to the cheapest included—and I take much pleasure in stating that I have always come back to the old reliable Buckingham.

"I think, generally speaking, nearly every one of my many friends prefer this famous cigarette. They, to my mind, are fresher, sweeter and last but not least, the most economical cigarette.

"I am not a distinguished person but I take much pleasure in giving you what you may term as 'a common person's opinion of Buckingham.'

"Hoping you success with this wonderful product, I am,

Duncan Out to Help Build Up Tourist Trade

Publicity Committee of Up-Island Board of Trade Formed

Duncan's appreciation of the value of the tourist business was noted with satisfaction by members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce who visited the Up-Island city yesterday in commenting this morning on the warmth of the reception extended to them.

"Duncan realizes," said P. B. Fowler, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, "that it is in an enviable position to receive considerable advantage from the rapidly growing tourist trade that each year means more and more to Canada. From conversations with the members of the Duncan Board of Trade it was apparent that they were of the opinion that they should direct more attention to securing their share of island travel, and there was a marked desire to co-operate with Victoria in drawing the attention of travelers to Vancouver Island. There is little doubt that Duncan in the future will be a big factor in stimulating this business for the advantage of the whole of the Island."

Mayor Anson's talk for co-operation was listened to with great attention and proved effective. Mr. Warren backed arguments advanced by C. L. Harrison and the other local speakers with strong facts and figures. As a result of the meeting a publicity committee of the Duncan Board of Trade has been organized.

Annual Gymnastic Display Held At Cranleigh School

Graced by the presence of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Helen Mackenzie, who were attended by Captain Moleson, the boys of Cranleigh House School brought a very successful season to a close on Monday evening with the annual tournament and gymnastic display.

A large number of guests attended and spent a most enjoyable evening witnessing the best and most exciting bouts that the boys have so far offered.

There was no competition in the heavyweight division, and Douglas Hewitt, a very capable boxer, was awarded the cup for the year.

In the lightweight-class the competition was keen. Hankey, Cox and Baker all showed great improvement, while Jack Lindsay, the winner of the cup, only disposed of Dobbie and McKim after being hard pressed in bouts which won much applause.

As Lindsay has won the cup three years in succession, it becomes his property, and His Honor showed his appreciation of the excellent showing of the boys by graciously offering to replace it with a cup presented by himself.

Surprising accuracy and keen fighting marked the performances of the bantamweights. John Taylor and Vernon Miller, the babes of the school, seemed to enjoy trading punches. Horsfield, Troup and Stone all gave of their best, while Alastair Denbigh, the winner, promises to develop into a really classy boxer.

All the boys of the school contributed to the excellent display of apparatus gymnastics, which brought the entertainment to a close, the work on the high horse by the seniors, in particular, earning much applause.

Little Molly Milton added a touch of variety to the proceedings with two pretty solo dances, at the conclusion of which she presented a bouquet of flowers to Miss Mackenzie.

The rest of the evening was spent in dancing in which all the guests joined.

Attempt Made Yesterday Unsuccessful; Will Make New Effort Friday

Attempts to float the United States freighter A. K. Kent, from one of the islands of the Walkeem Group in Johnstone Strait, 225 miles north of Victoria, failed yesterday. It was learned at the local office of the Pacific Salvage Company this morning upon receipts of information from E. F. Cribb, manager of the Vancouver branch of the salvage concern. The steamer Salvage Queen from Victoria and Skookum
No. 2 are working on the Kent, which grounded on Saturday, March 16.
The Salvage Company sent another gang of twelve longshoremen north last night from Vancouver to join the two crews now working on the wreck.
Twenty miles from Rock Bay. Six more scows have been sent from Vancouver to receive another portion of the Kent's lumber cargo. A large portion has already been discharged, and is now in Seattle awaiting repairs to the Kent.

In his message to Victoria this morning Mr. Cribb stated that everything will be in readiness for another attempt at floating the freighter on Friday. Tides will then be favorable, and if weather conditions are good the big freighter should be moved from her rocky perch. She still has a list of twenty-eight degrees.

CREW RESCUED
Tokio, March 27.—All of the officers and crew of the Italian destroyer Muglia, which sank during a storm last Monday night 130 miles northeast of Shanghai, were rescued by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha freighter Mal-sumoto Maru. The destroyer sent out an SOS call which brought the freighter to the scene of disaster. Some of the crew were drifting on the rough sea and some were standing on the rocks of a small island.
Seventy-six were rescued.

OBITUARY

An unusually large number of beautiful flowers marked the funeral yesterday of the late William Hew Sawyer, a member of the Civil Service and for many years superintendent and treasurer of the Sunday School of St. John's Church, who passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday afternoon. The cortege proceeded from the Sands Funeral Chapel to St. John's Church, where the rector, Rev. F. A. P. Chas. Wick, assisted by the Bishop of Columbia, conducted the impressive service in the presence of a large congregation, which included many members of the Civil Service, many of the children of St. John's Sunday School, and a number of personal friends. The hymns sung were "Now the Lamentation" and "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go." The "Dead March in Saul" was played by the organist, G. Jennings Burnett. The pallbearers were J. Colbert and N. F. Pte, representing the Civil Service, and A. Hallam, S. C. Hawkins, F. R. Quillie and C. M. Parrott, representing St. John's Church. Interment was made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The funeral of the late George Alfred "Dad" Jones took place yesterday afternoon from the Thompson Funeral Home. Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson conducted the service, during which the hymns "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Abide With Me" were sung. Many friends were present and the casket was banked with beautiful floral tributes. The remains were laid to rest in Royal Oak Burial Park, and the following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. C. James, F. J. Jones, J. B. Tighe, Chas. Todd, John O'Sullivan and Alex. O'Sullivan.

Frank Reid of Shawanigan Lake, passed away at the Jubilee Hospital early yesterday morning after three weeks' illness. He was born in Germany sixty-four years ago. When a young boy, accompanied by his parents, he arrived in Victoria, which continued to be his home until he moved to Shawanigan Lake about fourteen years ago. Prior to moving to Shawanigan Lake he was employed in a mechanical way in the various industrial institutions of the city and consequently was well known among the people of this city. He was married to Mrs. Reid, who survives him. He was survived by two brothers, Otto and Leopold Reid, in Oregon, Geo. M. Crane of Portland, Oregon, a brother-in-law, and Fred H. Shakespeare of this city, another brother-in-law. The remains are resting at the B.C. Funeral Parlors from where the funeral will be held to-morrow at 2:45 p.m., proceeding for service at the St. Andrew's Cathedral, View Street, at 3 o'clock. Interment will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

GEN. GRIESBACH VISITING CITY

Predicts Steady Development of Country's Natural Resources

Mineral and Oil Will Stand, He Says, Discussing Stock Avalanche

"I am satisfied that our mineral and oil will stand by itself," declared Major-General the Hon. William A. Griesbach of Edmonton in discussing yesterday's avalanche on the New York Stock Market.

He took the view that market manipulation could not seriously hurt this country, and added: "We are bound to come back strong."

Nothing could stop the steady development of this country, said General Griesbach in expressing the view that Canada, even if a high tariff wall were built around her, would be industrially, commercially and in every other way a rich country.

General Griesbach is personally interested in mineral and oil development of this country. He has been at the Empress Hotel since the beginning of the week and stated that he came West to visit his mother, who resides in Victoria.

"I am in the habit of making at least one trip to Victoria a year," he said. This morning he had a lengthy interview with Brigadier-General J. Duff-Stuart of Vancouver.

General Griesbach, who has a brilliant war record, was elected to the Canadian House of Commons in 1917 as representative of the Edmonton constituency. He was called to the Senate in September, 1921, and the same year was promoted to the rank of major-general.

As far back as 1907, General Griesbach was mayor of the city of Edmonton.

He volunteered for service with the Canadian Expeditionary Force in August, 1914, and went to England as second in command of the First Canadian Division Cavalry Squadron.

As a lieutenant-colonel he returned to Canada in December, 1914, to raise and command the 49th Battalion.

He went to France with this battalion in October, 1915, and was promoted to the rank of brigadier-general in the First Canadian Infantry Brigade on February 12, 1917. For his services in the war he received the D.S.O. and Bar, C.M.G. and C.B.

Little Hope For Victim

Condition of Charles St. Barbe Reported as "Very Grave"

Suffered Fractured Skull When Knocked Down By Automobile Last Night

Little hope was held out at the Jubilee Hospital for the recovery of Charles St. Barbe, 407 Belleville Street, who suffered a fractured skull when knocked down by an automobile on Pandora Avenue, at Oak Bay Junction, last night.

Up till 2 o'clock this afternoon Mr. St. Barbe had not recovered consciousness and Dr. A. B. Hudson, who is attending him, regards his condition as "very grave."

Mr. St. Barbe was admitted to hospital shortly after 10 o'clock last night. According to the police report of the accident, Mr. St. Barbe was running from the south side of Pandora Avenue, at Oak Bay Junction, to the north side to board a city-bound street car for his home. He was struck by an automobile driven by Harry Johnson of 1940 Crescent Road, who was proceeding eastward on Pandora. Mr. St. Barbe was said to have been dragged thirty-four feet after the impact.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very pores which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate; then the blood uses the

Tuition Fees Are Studied

Saanich Asking What Terms City Would Make For Partial Renewal of Plan

Negotiations between the city and Saanich school boards as to the position of second and third-year High School students will be resumed at a meeting of the city trustees tonight. Saanich is asking if pupils enrolled in these two years at the Victoria High School will be permitted to continue at the school after June, and, if so, what the fee will be.

The city trustees notified Saanich some weeks ago that after the end of the present term the city would recognize no obligation to accept Saanich students, unless necessary space was available, and gave notice of an intended revision of fees charged for any such tuition.

The board's own policy in regard to student fees from city and outside pupils has yet to be determined. Meanwhile a survey is being made of anticipated attendance from all sources for the next school term. The present Saanich-city agreement expires in June, unless arrangements are made for a renewal, it is understood.

Opposed in the proposed erection of a Saanich High School, Saanich trustees are asking what terms the city will make for a partial continuance of the former plan.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR TELLS STORIES OF EARLY KOOTENAYS

Predicts Another Prospectors' Boom, This Time in New Northern B.C. Area

For more than an hour last night Lieutenant-Governor Randolph Bruce entertained members of the Vancouver Island Prospectors' Association with human interest stories from the days of prospecting and mining in the East Kootenays.

He recalled how he came out to Canada as a boy from Scotland to work as a railway engineer on the C.P.R. on finding a route for the C.P.R. Crow's Nest line and how he walked all the way from Fort McLeod to Kootenay Landing. He told how one of the first men he met in the woods there was Bill Fernie, digging away at the coal, which later made him wealthy and resulted in his name being perpetuated in the interior of this Province.

The Lieutenant-Governor went on to tell how he thought British Columbia was the most beautiful place he had seen, and how he decided that it offered him a great opportunity. He proceeded to take advantage of by going back to McGill University and taking a short mining course on blow pipe assaying. Then he came West again and was through the Fort Steele and other interior excitement.

He related one of his experiences in assaying some ore for a man who was disappointed because the test would not show up any gold in it. "I don't think Bruce knows his business when he says there is no gold there," he quoted this prospector as saying. "I know there is gold there, for I put it there myself."

He also related incidents having to do with the careers of many of the well-known old-timers of the East Kootenays.

Dealing with the development of mining in British Columbia and the opportunities at present in connection with it, the Lieutenant-Governor said: "We are on the eve of another prospectors' boom in British Columbia and I think it will be centered in the north. The last boom was in Roseland and the Kootenays between 1890 and 1900."

"The prospectors of the '90s pretty well discovered all that has become mines since that time. We haven't added very much since then to the number of mines in East and West Kootenay, although we have discovered new ore bodies on those claims."

"In the new area in the north we are going to discover new ore bodies. I don't know of a finer type of man than the prospector. He is a man of resources, who thinks for himself and is rugged and as fine a type of man as you can find."

"It is an amazing thing how it gets noised abroad that there are good prospects in any country. There seems to be some kind of mental telepathy, as people come from every direction. As for the importance of metals in the life of the world to-day, the Lieutenant-Governor declared that the world in the last quarter of a century had used more metals than it had used in all its history before."

He told of his visit to Egypt and the tomb of King Tut, where he saw much fine metalwork and skilled rock cutting which had come down to us from 1,500 B.C. He referred to the recent excavations at Ur, which have revealed the importance of metals in the life of the people there 4,000 years before Christ.

Many incidents in the development of the Windermere district, where he opened up his famous Paradise Mine, were related by him.

"I don't know of anything more interesting in life than taking part in the development of a beautiful district like that up in the Windermere Valley," he said. "I have been hanging around town and around clubs."

At the request of George E. Winkler, president of the association, who presided, the Lieutenant-Governor told the humorous and true story of how the people of Windermere went up to the town of Donald, on the C.P.R. main line, and stole their church and brought it all the way down to Windermere, where years afterwards the deed was forgotten and the church was finally consecrated by Bishop Doull.

Thomas Golby and George H. Ayland moved and seconded the motion of thanks to the Lieutenant-Governor.

Our visitor (writes a correspondent) has a taste for advertising the subjects of his sermons and addresses in terse and arresting headlines, and this he does on a big notice board which has its foundations in the graveyard itself. This week "A Solution for Unemployment" is blazoned forth.

The guard was punching my ticket to-day as we passed by. Seen that? he asked. "Ay, and look where they've put it—in the graveyard! That's the solution for unemployment, all right!"

FOR THE KIDNEYS

"LOVE IS OF THE VALLEY"

By DAVID LYALL

"Thank you, sir. Later, I've no doubt, you'll be needed, but in the meantime all I have got to do is to report the affair and seal Mr. Brodie's personal effects."

"Oh," said Heron, and his lips went dry. "The desk, you mean?"

The inspector nodded. Heron cast a glance of infinite compassion at the sofa where lay the rigid figure of the man who had been his partner, but never his friend.

"Then there is really nothing I can do," he said, with a shrinking note in his voice.

"Nothing just now, come outside, Mr. Heron," said the doctor. "We need not disturb the police at their work."

Heron and his daughter, evidently relieved, stepped back into the warmth and comfort of the little white hall.

"How is poor Mrs. Brodie and her daughter?" he asked.

"Prostrated. It was altogether unexpected. Can you furnish a motive, Mr. Heron?" Mr. Brodie always seemed to be the last man who would take his own life. He was a breezy, cheerful individual. I often remarked on it to my wife. Nothing came amiss to him, and he certainly had not been out of health."

"Business affairs," said Heron in a queer, jerky way, which made the doctor look at him attentively. He then saw how grey his face had become, how the features and figure seemed to have shrunk.

"I'm sorry to hear that, Mr. Heron. For the sake of the living as well as the dead. May I as an old friend, express the hope that his troubles were confined to himself alone, without involving you."

"I was his partner, doctor. I'm afraid I shall not escape," said Heron quietly.

Before the doctor could reply on comment on this pregnant statement they were arrested by a figure on the stairs. It was Mrs. Brodie, tall, sweeping, commanding, her pale, large-featured face looking at them out of sombre eyes.

"I want to speak to you, Mr. Heron," she said curtly. "Will you come up to my boudoir?"

CHAPTER III

A glance passed between Heron and his daughter, and without greeting or question to Mrs. Brodie, Beatrice followed him up the stairs. She had a strange feeling towards her father something that was at once poignant and passing sweet. He needed her as never before in his whole life, the mothering instinct was awakened that day in Beatrice Heron never to sleep again.

The tall figure reached the landing, they following, along a richly-carpeted corridor to a door at the farther end through which they passed into the boudoir, an octagonal room, exquisitely upholstered in light oak and pale green satin brocade.

It was Mrs. Brodie, slightly imperious, who motioned them both in, and with her own hand closed the door.

"I hope you can throw some light on this terrible business, Mr. Heron," she began without preamble. If she grieved there was no outward sign. Her face looked as if carved out of marble. It was not a sweet face, but it showed strength of character and of will, and undoubted courage. That was the quality Beatrice admired in her at the moment, for she herself was trembling without and within.

Heron moistened his dry lips. "The only light I can throw on it, Mrs. Brodie, is that some of your husband's plans and schemes miscarried and that, seeing disaster in front, he could not stand up to it."

Somehow he had not expected this addition to his already heavy burden. He had always imagined that Beatrice, wife would be his confidante in all the schemes whereby the ambitions she fully shared could be furthered.

"Why do you speak in the singular, Mr. Heron?" asked Mrs. Brodie, pointedly. "You were his partner. What schemes or plans could my husband possibly have outside your knowledge or sanction?"

"He had a good many latterly. I could not follow him through the mazes of his financial and other operations."

"Why could you not follow him? It was your duty to follow him, to advise, and restrain him if possible, and put the brake on. Why did you not do that?"

"I was not equal to the task, madam. Mr. Brodie had a commanding personality."

"Commanding fudge," she cried with a sudden queer lapse into common everyday language. "I was not afraid of Mr. Brodie, he was always amenable to my advice."

"Then, please me, did he not acquaint you with most of his business affairs?"

"He did not. Whatever Mr. Brodie may have been outside, and that people will blame him I don't doubt, he was a perfect husband and father. He left his worries and cares on the doorstep, and brought only the sunshine in."

At this splendid tribute to the dead man Beatrice Heron's eyes suddenly overflowed and she turned away to hide her tears before Mrs. Brodie could observe them.

"You were his partner, and I repeat it, you ought to have made it your business to know what was going on, and to have applied the brake," she proceeded mercilessly. "You were very culpable, Mr. Heron, and you cannot be acquitted from censure or blame."

"I am not likely to be, Mrs. Brodie," replied Heron simply. "I am trying to prepare myself for the inevitable."

"Tell me only this, it is what I asked you to come up for. Will there be a public inquiry? Will everything come out in the papers?"

"I am afraid so."

"And what will happen to you?"

"I shall probably be arrested."

"A queer spam crossed her rigid features. "It is a dreadful business for us all," she said, but spoke no word of sympathy to those whose plight was no greater."

Heron looked round helplessly. "Perhaps you'd better go, Beatrice. We are of little use here. I wanted to come to express my sympathy."

"Sympathy will not help us in this crisis, Mr. Heron," came back from Mrs. Brodie's lips. "What I would rather have had from you is the swift and firm action which would have rendered the offer of sympathy unnecessary."

To be continued

"Jack, have you ever loved before?"

"My dear girl, I'll be perfectly frank with you, I've been engaged so many times that my ex-fiances have perfected an organization and adopted a yell."

New York Dog Finds Way Home From South Carolina

Several years ago there lived on Kenyon Street, Elmira, N.Y., neighbors named Bunn and Sullivan. The Sullivans owned an intelligent pointer which grew fond of the Bunnas and spent half of its time in their home.

After a time the Bunnas moved to South Carolina. Before leaving they acquired complete possession of the Sullivan's dog and took him with them.

Three months later the Sullivans heard a scratching at their door. They opened it and were astonished to find the pointer they had turned over to the Bunnas. Unhappily, he had made his way home from South Carolina, although he had made the journey but once before and that on a train and in an opposite direction.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

Once more the Tynmites were alone. Said Clowzy, in a grumbling tone, "Just think! With both the coal men gone, we don't know where we are. There's not a single soul in sight. I surely hope that we're all right. This must be miles from where we were, 'cause we have traveled far."

"As I recall, not long ago the four of us were down below the ground, inside a little mine, and since we left that place, we've traveled down a long, long hill. We kept on going fast until we reached the spot that we're on now. Oh, what a useless chase."

"Don't be so silly," Scouty said. "Why stay right here? Let's move ahead and look around the country. We may find a town nearby. I'm just as hungry as can be, and food would look real good to me." "Don't mention food," cried Copsy. "Cause it only makes me sigh."

And, as they talked they walked

ing from the radio and there was a most delicious smell.

"What's the matter with the lights?" called the bunny gentleman as soon as he opened the front door. And with that, all of a sudden, all the lights were turned up most brightly. The radio played louder and Nurse Jane and Mrs. Longears and all the little bunnies shouted:

"Surprise! Surprise! Surprise on Daddicums!"

"Well! Well! Well!" exclaimed the rabbit. "This is a great surprise! And so it was, being number two, just as I promised."

"Sit down, Daddicums, and eat!" cried Jingle.

"Sit by me!" begged Jangle.

"No, by me!" By me! Sit by me!" begged the other forty-six bunny boys and girls until Uncle Wiggly had to laugh, and so did everyone else. Uncle Wiggly ended by sitting down to his surprise party table, between his wife and Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, which satisfied everybody.

So the good time began, and it was a jolly good time too. Let me tell you! Oh, such wonderful carrot and lettuce cakes as there were! And such turnip pudding and clover sandwiches!

But with all the happiness at the party, trouble was coming—trouble in the shape of the Skillery Scalley Alligator and the Bob Cat. Nearest and nearest to the bungalow crept the Bad Chaps.

"Slink around to the back door," whispered the Bob Cat to the Gator. "I'll ring the front door bell and when I do you bust in and catch Uncle Wiggly before he knows what is happening."

"Right—O!" gargled the Gator.

But when the two Bad Chaps got near enough to hear the sweet radio music and when they looked through the windows and saw how happy everyone was at Uncle Wiggly's surprise party the Gator said:

"I haven't the heart to spoil their fun!"

"Neither have I!" sighed the Bob Cat, trying to look at his silly little tail. "I'll just knock and tell Uncle Wiggly we'll bite him another time." So when Uncle Wiggly went to the door, the Bob Cat said that and the rabbit said: "What a surprise!" So that was number three, as I promised.

Then the two Bad Chaps slunk away and the party went on merrily. And if the elephant will bring his trunk full of water to put out the firecracker, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly's shaving brush.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggly's Surprise

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggly had three surprises all in one day. And they all had something to do with a party. I shall tell you about them.

In the first place, Nurse Jane and Mrs. Longears made it up between them to give Uncle Wiggly a surprise party. To get him out of the way long enough so they could fix up the tables and have the forty sixteen rabbit children wash their paws and faces, they asked Uncle Butter, the goat, to hurtle Mr. Longears over to play checkers.

When Uncle Wiggly got tired of playing checkers and started to go home before the surprise party was ready, Aunt Lettie, the clever goat lady, went upstairs and poured water from a window, so the bunny thought it was raining. He went back, sat down and played more checkers until the rain had stopped.

Only, of course, there really was no rain. It was just Aunt Letty pouring water from a pitcher from upstairs down over the porch roof. So when Uncle Wiggly got outside the goat's house and was hopping along toward his hollow stump bungalow, he noticed that the ground, all over, was dry and that no drops were dripping from the free branches.

There goes that rabbit! gargled the Gator.

"Why, this is very strange!" said Mr. Longears. "It rained at Uncle Buster's house, but nowhere else! Very strange!"

So that was his first surprise, which leaves two more for me to tell you about. And it wasn't until some time afterward that the bunny uncle learned it was Aunt Lettie pouring water from a pitcher that made the pretend rain and kept him in until 6 o'clock.

As Uncle Wiggly neared his bungalow he began to hear soft, sweet music coming from inside.

"They must have the radio turned on," thought the rabbit gentleman. "I'll hop in and listen to the band. I love music. And I hope they have something good to eat!"

Oh, wasn't he going to be surprised! I'll say!

Now, as Mr. Longears was hopping toward his bungalow a little way back in the woods the Bob Cat and Skillery Alligator sat on stumps watching him.

"There goes that rabbit!" gargled the Gator.

"Yes, and I think we have a good chance to catch him," snarled the Bob Cat with his silly little tail. "When he gets in you go to the back door and I'll go to the front door, and between us we shall catch him!"

So, knowing nothing about the Bad Chaps that were after him, Uncle Wiggly went in his bungalow. The lights were turned low, soft music was play-

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, MARCH 28, 1929

Good and evil planetary influences contend to-day, according to astrology. It is a time for guarded action in important matters. Business enterprises are subject to variable planetary influences to-day when projects that seem most promising may prove unfortunate. Lawyers and heads of big corporations may meet puzzling problems of policy while the rule prevails.

Women should be rather lucky in whatever is of personal or individual interest to them. This should be an auspicious day for weddings, although it does not promise immediate prosperity. Places of amusement should profit at this time when the public will seek success of serious things.

Farmers to-day may be temporarily affected by storms or unfavorable weather conditions, but their outlook for the summer is uncommonly promising. Beauty culture that is really nature's remedy for defects will be more than ever popular this spring. Since the trend of the planetary influences is toward uncovering or revealing of defects of every sort cosmetics will be less employed than formerly, astrologers declare. Health will be sought with a new knowledge of science which can almost make over the human body; the stars prophesy. Persons whose birthdate it is may sustain losses and unexpected setbacks in the coming year. Prudence will ward off many troubles. Children born on this day probably will have a strongly scientific bent. Both boys and girls have the planetary promise of keen minds. The radio and all electrical devices should be fortunate for them.

Fragrant as flowers! Soothing as sleep!

Water which leaves your skin silky and smooth! Water soft as satin! And water like this you can have every time you bathe or wash by just melting in it a RECKITT'S BATH CUBE—a small portion of one in the wash-basin; the whole of one in the bath. You can still have water like this no matter how harsh your tap-water may be.

For Reckitt's Bath Cubes soften water. They take all the edge off tap water; they make it all satin and sympathy.

Foch Honored With Memorial Service Here

Lieut.-Governor and Representatives of Provincial and City Governments Attend

Citizens Gather at Soldiers' Monument and Hear Sir Percy Lake's Address

At the foot of the Soldier's Memorial in Parliament Square hundreds of citizens yesterday paid tribute to the memory of one of the greatest military commanders of the age, Marshal Ferdinand Foch, ex-service, grand old man and many patriotic societies were represented at the service, which was one of the most solemn and sincere ever held in the city.

General Sir Percy Lake, K.C.B., on behalf of the ex-service men of the city, paid high tribute to the great warrior in an inspiring address. While Rev. A. B. Wood read the Roman Catholic burial ritual. Following the prayer the large gathering stood bareheaded while "The Last Post" was sounded and the two minutes silence was observed.

MANY BODIES REPRESENTED

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor attended the service, while Attorney-General Foadley and Alderman J. L. O'Leary were present on behalf of the Provincial Government and the City Council, respectively. Commander L. Murray, Senior Naval Officer; Brigadier J. Sutherland-Brown, District Officer Commanding M.D. No. 11; representatives from the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, L'Alliance Française, Red Cross Society, Victoria branch, France-Canada, Army and Navy Veterans in Canada and other patriotic organizations also joined in paying honor to the memory of the great commander.

During the ceremony an ex-service man with a Union Jack and a naval cadet with the French Tricolor stood before the monument. Members of the Canadian Scottish in full dress stood guard. As the bugler sounded "The Last Post" the guard reversed their arms and the naval cadet lowered his standard.

WREATHS LAID

At the conclusion of the service wreaths from Premier Talmie and members of the Executive Council, Victoria Municipal Chapter of the I.O.D.E., comrades of the British forces and the Britannia branch, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., were laid at the foot of the monument. Other wreaths were placed there to-day.

Many of the outstanding qualities of Marshal Foch were noted in Sir Percy Lake's address which was as follows:

"As time passes on and the Great War becomes more and more of a memory, the names of most of those who took even prominent parts in it become less and less familiar to the present generation.

"But there are some names which cannot soon, perhaps cannot ever be forgotten, and among that group I speak now of one soldier—no name can possibly stand higher than that of the man whom we mourn and strive to honor to-day—Ferdinand Foch, Marshal of France, Field Marshal in the British Army.

"I do not purpose to trace Marshal

TIMBER POLICY CONTINUED BY NEW MINISTRY

The former Liberal Government's policy on timber exports, which was under fierce attack by Conservative politicians for many years, is being followed by the Talmie Government, despite its pre-election promises. An order-in-council passed by the Executive Council this week gives Hon. F. P. Burden, minister of Lands and authorities to permit the export of raw logs from all timber areas under Government control, as he sees fit. This arrangement is in effect under the former ministry, which allowed export only when logs could not be marketed successfully in this province. Mr. Burden's authority to permit log exports will become effective on April 1.

Foch's military career in any detail, but it is perhaps worth while to recall that, like Earl Haig, it was not until he became a comparatively senior officer, studying the higher art of war and of command in war, that his talent became widely recognized.

"As an instructor in the art of war at the French Staff College his name was well and favorably known in the British Army long before the war, and as an army corps commander when war came in August, 1914, he did consistently good service.

"But nevertheless, partly because his well-known religious convictions made him obnoxious to certain classes of politicians in France, partly because neither he nor his chief, M. Joffre, were able to produce to order the victories which seemed easy to amateur strategists and politicians, he was to all intents and purposes placed on the shelf in 1917, and removed from active employment in the field.

"Nothing, however, could hide his eminent talents—which led to his employment with the Allies' supreme command where he was a warm friend and co-operator with F.M. Sir H. Wilson—and from that to his employment as Commander-in-Chief of the Allied forces on the Western Front.

"I have referred to the Marshal's religious feelings. It is certain that he had strong religious convictions and lived and died, as he has been said, a good Catholic. It is perhaps nothing of passing remark to note that many distinguished military commanders have been sincerely religious men.

"It is difficult for anyone who has not himself undergone it to realize the strain which the responsibility of a high command in war imposes on the holder. The power of calmly accepting such responsibility and making with calmness decisions of enormous importance in the ordinary course of duty is a quality that is most often found in those of religious temperament.

UNITY OF COMMAND

"Marshal Foch's appointment as Allied Commander-in-Chief in the Spring of 1918, was, it is believed, largely due to the insistence of our own British Commander-in-Chief, Earl Haig. Soldiers of all the allied countries had long realized the enormous advantage which unity of command in the person of the German Emperor, gave to our enemies. But unity of command was not easy to bring about among the Allies.

"It is difficult for anyone generally recognized by the British nation how unprecedented was the fact that a British army—and the largest in our history—has been placed under the supreme command of a foreigner. Personally I cannot recall any instance of such a thing.

"It must be almost equally rare among foreign nations, at any rate, not to recall an instance where a national army—as distinct from a mere contingent—has been definitely placed under the command of a foreigner. Another nation's governments and peoples alike have been too jealous of their national privileges and rights and too adverse to surrendering their own control.

"What is perhaps even more notable is the personality of the man to whom the supreme command was entrusted, and his relations with the commanding Allied generals over whom he became Commander-in-Chief.

ALL FRIENDS

"It may with considerable truth be said that he was the personal friend and comrade of them all. He and Haig, he and General Pershing, and, I believe, he and King Albert of Belgium, were more than simply Allied comrades—they were friends. The feeling of trusted comrades—and this to an extent remarkable in men of differing nationalities.

"This gave a wonderful cohesion to his exercise of the supreme command. For example, it is fairly well known that Foch's original plans for the final general advance of the Allies were largely supplanted by plans put forward by Haig, which Foch accepted in place of his own, and which were carried out to complete success.

"It is only a real big man who can see in another leader's plans advantages over his own, and can adopt them for execution and tenaciously see them through.

"But we need not enlarge on this. No less remarkable was the confidence in Foch which was felt by the other British commanders under Haig, and by the British armies in general. It was a confidence seldom, if ever before, given to a foreigner, and a notable tribute to the man himself.

"Speaking naturally with diffidence, I should suggest that Marshal Foch's habit of mind might fairly be expressed thus:

"Take the initiative against any one, do your best and trust to God." This is well illustrated in the story of his famous report to Joffre: 'My right is crushed, my left is retreating. I am attacking with my centre.'

"To sum up, we may recognize in Marshal Foch a religious man, a true patriot, a trusted leader, and a comrade in the best sense. In the words of his own tribute to our lamented leader, Earl Haig: 'He was a perfect brother-in-arms, very loyal and straightforward.'

AT THE THEATRES

FINE ATTRACTION ON THE STAGE AT THE COLISEUM NOW

In a stage production which promises to equal, if not surpass, the other plays presented in Victoria during the time that they have been here the Coliseum Players, under the direction of Raymond "Toby" Leitch, are presenting Coliseum patrons this week with a play entitled "The Hoodlum." There will be a matinee performance this afternoon and one on Saturday afternoon, while the show will be presented every evening during the week.

The cast is especially well chosen, and all the players give good accounts of themselves in their respective roles. Miss Leone Webber is cast as a young woman of the slums who by her loyalty wins the love of a wealthy young man; "Toby" Leitch is a young man in search of material for a play which he is writing; Miss Ada Daniels is the big-hearted mother of Miss Webber, perhaps, but kind and loving; Miss Esther Todd is the modern young wife in the play, plotting against her step-son and after her army husband's death; Paid Wallace is splendid as the sober-faced, loyal butler of the house; Forrest Taylor has the role of the young son of the house, accused of stealing money from his father; George Rogers is the dishonest banker for the house and Leon Cluff is cast as the blind master of the family. The plot is strong and gripping and the play runs about an hour and a half, giving Coliseum patrons a most enjoyable evening's entertainment.

POPULAR STAR IS LEADING PLAYER AT COLUMBIA THEATRE

Victor Varconi, who triumphed in the featured male lead in support of Leatrice Joy in "An Angel of Broadway," has a leading role in "The Forbidden Woman," a Pathe-De Mille feature starring Jetta Goudal, now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

Varconi, who first won outstanding public approval with his performance as Prince Dimitri in "The Voigt Boatman," achieved another triumph as Pontius Pilate in "The King of Kings." The story of "The Forbidden Woman" was written by Elmer Harris Paul L. Stein directed from the script of Clara Beranger. Joseph Schildkraut and Ivan Lebedeff also will be seen in strong supporting roles.

One year ago Kathryn Crawford was starring in the musical comedy, "The Deck," which was creating a sensation in Los Angeles. To-day she is the proud possessor of a long term Universal contract and is well on the road to movie stardom.

The beautiful young actress is to be seen in "The Kid's Clever," a picture starring Glenn Tryon, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. The picture marks Miss Crawford's screen debut. It is her first movie role. Her work in "The Kid's Clever" has pleased officials that at the completion of the picture they immediately cast Miss Crawford opposite Root Gibson in his picture release entitled "King of the Rodeo."

NILS ASTHER AND JOAN CRAWFORD IN CAPITOL PICTURE

Joan Crawford and Nils Asther loom as a new team of screen lovers in "Dream of Love," which will play for the last time to-day at the Capitol Theatre as new Metro-Goldwyn-Meyer feature.

In this brilliant pictureization of the old French play, "Adrienne Lecouvreur," Miss Crawford and Asther give the finest and most forceful performances of their careers and win new laurels as dramatic artists.

Freud Niblo, who directed the modernized version of the old play which Sarah Bernhardt made famous, surrounded the featured couple with an elaborate supporting cast, including actress-movie star, Gertrude Meyer, Warner Oland, and many others of note.

Miss Crawford, fresh from her triumphs in "Our Dancing Daughters," and with John Gilbert in "Four Walls," gives an outstanding portrayal of the evpy dancing girl who rose to stage stardom in the little Balkan province where her lover was pretender to the throne. Miss Crawford's performance is a remarkable thing for clearing the skin, and as sulphur clears it, menthol heals the sore, broken tissue. This necessary two-fold action is what you get in Rowles Menthos Sulphur. Long-standing cases of skin troubles are often cleared up in two or three days' time. Even fiery eczema yields to this marvelous combination. It brings instant relief from itching and smarting. Your dermatologist has Rowles Menthos Sulphur in jars ready to use. Just try it! Be sure it's Rowles.

NANCY CARROLL'S VOICE IS HEARD AT THE DOMINION

Another popular song hit written especially as the theme song for a moving picture, has taken its place with the national success "Out of the Dawn," the theme song for the Richard Dix picture, "Warming Up," and the other popular melodies composed especially for pictures.

The new song is "A Precious Little Thing Called Love" and it is sung by Nancy Carroll in the Paramount Sound picture, "The Shopworn Angel," which will play for the last time to-day.

"The Shopworn Angel" has sound throughout and, in the important sequences, talking enlivens the action. It is a romantic story of a smart show-girl who laughs at love until she falls into it.

New York Sees Stage Revivals

That Is Latest Fad of Big City's "Dinner-coat Population"

New York, March 27.—Into strange far places does their latest quest for novel entertainment lead New York's restless "dinner-coat population." They have now gone in for dramatic revivals with hilarious enthusiasm—and not only dramatic revivals, but revivals in the very houses where the old pieces were performed thirty, forty and fifty years ago.

Back in the 30's, it is said, New Yorkers used to satisfy their craving for something different by slumming expeditions to the dives in Chelsea. Later they took up Chinatown, after that all the quaters eating places in Greenwich Village, and still later, with the advent of prohibition, speakeasies and night clubs.

But nowadays sightseeing buses move dozens of trips through Chinatown every day, and anyway one has to be a Chinese to get into the places where there is really anything to see. Tourists have crowded the natives out of Greenwich Village, and Federal Health, Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen and the Jones law have put speakeasies and night clubs into the class of exceedingly doubtful pleasures.

"THE BLACK CROOK"

So now New Yorkers are journeying by the tube and ferry to "the last sea port of Bohemia," set up on the Hoboken waterfront, by Christopher Morley and his friends, to see "The Black Crook," and "After Dark," or "Neither Maid, Wife nor Widow." About April 1 they are going to start going back to the Bowery.

Miner's Old Bowery Theatre, for years the leading burlesque house in America, has been leased by Alex Yoke, and Larry Fay. One of Augustin Daly's classics, "Under the Gaslight," will open there April 1, after the place has been thoroughly fumigated. A "rathskeller" is being fixed up next door.

"Harry Miner, one of New York's most picturesque figures back in the 70's and 80's and 90's, built the place along about 1875. For a time he put on current hits and was commended by a writer in The Brooklyn Eagle in 1886 for appreciating the fact that "the money of First Avenue is as good as the money of Fifth Avenue," and for giving "down town and the East Side the same amusements as uptown and the West Side" got.

Seventy-five per cent. of the complaints we receive concerning people not being able to make themselves heard on the telephone are due to telephone users not "talking into the mouthpiece."

On many calls a six-inch gap between the lips and the mouthpiece will prevent you being heard distinctly. Your lips should be half an inch from the mouthpiece.

J. E. Ford, of Langford Lake, has had the misfortune to break his elbow while working in a sawmill at Sassex. He has returned to his home home during convalescence.

The opening dance of the Langford Lake dance will be held next Saturday, starting at 9 p.m. Many improvements have been made to the pavilion including the addition of a check room and ladies' cloak room. The seating space has also been greatly enlarged. Orard's orchestra will supply the dance music.
